ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

FINAL

Vol. 81. No. 100. (81st Year) ST. LOUIS, SATURDAY, APRIL 11, 1959—20 PAGES PRICE 5 CENTS.

100 OF 600 VOTES OF ABSENTEES TO BE CHALLENGED BY REPUBLICANS

Count Is Completed — Medical Certification of Infirm Applicants Remains to Be Checked.

(Picture on Page 3A)

More than 100 of the approximately 600 absentee ballots cast in last Tuesday's election will be challenged by the two Republicans among the four special election judges named to count the ballots, the Post-Dispatch was told today.

The number challenged may be much larger when the judges examine physicians' certifications on applications for absentee ballots filed by infirm voters, it was said.

The four special judges completed their count about 9 o'clock last night, unexpectedly early. They will begin their examination of the medical certifications next week, probably Monday.

Wayne L. Millsap, Republican attorney, who succeeded in having a count of the absentee ballots by four special judges, said some of the ballots will be challenged on the ground that signatures are missing.

Other Grounds.

Other ballots lack attestations by witnesses or are improperly attested, Millsap said.

Another basis for challenging ballots will ge a contention that notaries did not show the date their commissions expire when they notarized the ballots, the attorney stated.

This failure has been held by the city counselor's office to be only a technicality and not fatal to the ballot's validity, he said.

The Republican and Democratic special judges did not agree in many instances on whether a ballot should be challenged, Millsap said. An exception was in cases where signatures were missing.

As a result, separate reports will be made to the Election Board, setting out whatever objections there are to the ballots. The board will then make its ruling before the final vote is certified.

Protest By Candidates.

The request for a counting of absentee ballots by special judges came after Dr. Robert Rainey and Paul W. Preisler, unsuccessful candidates for the Board of Education, protested against the attesting of ballots of infirm voters by anyone other than a doctor or Christian Science practitioner.

Dr. Rainey and Preisler obtained from Circuit Judge O. P. Owen a temporary restraining order against counting ballots not certified by a "licensed physician or duly accredited practitioner of Christian Science." They contend chiropractors do not qualify as "licensed physicians" under state laws.

A hearing on the suit by two unsuccessful School Board candidates will be held Monday. Judge Owen, in granting a temporary restraining order, did not rule on the controversy about chiropractors.

Close School Race.

The absentee ballot count could affect the apparent outcome of the race for one of the four seats on the Board of Education. It was not disclosed whether challenging of more than 100 ballots by the special election judges, if upheld, would affect final results in the School Board race.

On the basis of unofficial returns, Mrs. Louis W. Buckowitz, wife of the Democratic committeeman for the Tenth ward, won a School Board post with 34,657 votes. Dr. Rainey was next with 34,561.

The suit by Preisler and Dr. Rainey is against the four members of the Election Board. Daniel J. Nack, a board member, is a chiropractor.

Board Chairman Michael L. Galli said that results of the absentee ballot count will not be made public until complete vote totals are announced about the end of next week.

TURKEY SHOOT SCHEDULED TO PROTECT PLANES

RICHMOND, Va., April 11 (UPI) — Two volunteer turkey hunters today will try to shoot a wild turkey whose leisurely strolls along runways at Byrd airport here have disrupted plane schedules.

The bird ignored planes yesterday as it strolled along the main runway and held up several commercial and military flights.

But the gobbler beat a hasty retreat for nearby bushes whenever an auto or a would-be hunter approached.

Airport Manager Anthony E. Dowd issued "shoot to kill" orders and even went after the bird on his own, but returned empty handed.

He said his biggest worry was that the turkey might fly into a plane landing or taking off.

"A bird hitting the windshield of a plane landing at 110 miles per hour would be like a 20 millimeter shell exploding in the cockpit," he said.

U.S. ANTI-CRIME DRIVE READY TO GO INTO ACTION

Rogers Says Staff Will Be Enlarged—Year's Study Has Been Made.

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP) — A special Government task force against organized crime, having completed a year-long study of nation-wide racketeering, is now moving into the action stage with an expanded staff.

This was announced yesterday by Attorney General William P. Rogers. He said, "The full weight of federal law enforcement is now being concentrated on syndicated criminal operations." He indicated a sharp increase in prosecutions against top racketeers.

The Attorney General said his special group on organized crime, created last April, "has successfully completed its temporary assignment" of coordinating information about top hoodlums from every available investigative agency.

Going to Other Offices.

The group of 18, headed by Milton R. Wessel, a former New York prosecutor, now will be integrated into federal district attorneys' offices in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and Miami, Rogers said. The special group has had separate field offices in those cities for the last year.

Moreover, Rogers said, special anti-rackets units will soon be in operation in all 94 United States attorneys' offices in the country. Some of these offices are to get more personnel.

The whole operation is supervised by Assistant Attorney General Malcolm R. Wilkey, new head of the Justice Department's criminal division.

The plans were announced in connection with a question from Senator John L. McClellan (Dem.), Arkansas, chairman of the Senate Rackets Committee, asking what the Department of Justice was doing against organized crime.

Detroit Teamster Called

The Senate Committee has called William Bufalino, DetroitTeamster leader linked by the committee to narcotics and substandard union contracts, for testimony next Tuesday.

FUND FOR ASTOR BEGUN, HE'S DOWN TO LAST 5 MILLION

NEW YORK, April 11 (AP)— Brooklynites rallied to a new cause yesterday—the relief of John Jacob Astor III. A spokesman for Astor announced Wednesday that the society figure has only $5,000,000, not $70,000,000 as popularly supposed.

Sam Atlas was discussing the situation with Joe Guarsico in Sam's luncheonette when the idea was born.

"We oughta do something for the poor guy," said Joe. "Let's take up a collection," said Sam. Mrs. Atlas produced a pickle jar and Sam pasted on it an appeal:

"Please help poor John Jacob Astor . . . he has only $5,000,000."

More than $10 in change was in the jar in one day, and Atlas says he'll send a check for the amount to Astor's lawyers.

"We're getting mostly pennies," he admitted, "But when you're down to your last 500,000,000 pennies, every cent counts."

Astor presumably is not yet aware of his good fortune. He sailed for Europe Wednesday on the liner Queen Mary.

SLEEPS THROUGH OWN KIDNAPING AND POLICE CHASE

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., April 11 (AP)—Bruce E. Fowler, 28 years old, slept through his own kidnapping and a high-speed police chase.

Police told him what happened:

After Fowler went to sleep in the back seat of an automobile near a tavern Thursday, he was spotted by a robber and relieved of his wallet.

The robber drove off with Fowler still asleep in the car.

Two patrolmen in a police cruiser became suspicious and gave chase. After a race of 2½ blocks, the robber got out and escaped afoot.

Rubbing his eyes, Fowler told police it could have been worse. The robber didn't know Fowler had put most of his money in a trouser pocket.

AN HONEST WOMAN LEARNS HONESTY ISN'T LOST VIRTUE

HONOLULU, April 11 (AP) —Mrs. William B. Gray, wife of a Chicago builder, found a wallet containing $2000 aboard the liner Lurline.

After considerable effort, she found the owner. He was Maurice Schapira of Newark, N.J., who was at a Waikiki Beach hotel.

A week later a $15,000 diamond was returned to Mrs. Gray which she did not know she had lost. The diamond had fallen out of her wedding ring on the beach.

"You think people aren't honest; then something like this happens and you believe everyone wants to be honest," she said.

President Tanned and Relaxed After 4 Days of Golf and Sun

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 11 (UPI)—President Eisenhower today seems to be responding to his diet of golf and hot sunshine here.

The Chief Executive who arrived at the Augusta National Golf Club last Tuesday has played four straight 18-hole rounds of golf and planned to get in another game this morning.

Reporters saw him close-up yesterday as he said goodby to a group of Republican leaders who flew down from Washington to discuss the choice for a new G.O.P. national chairman.

The President in four days of hot weather has picked up a noticeable tan and some of the fatigue lines around his eyes seemed to have softened. He was in gay spirits as he said farewell to the Republicans and bantered with them jokingly as they posed for news pictures.

Mrs. Eisenhower appeared to be having a good time, too. She joined in wisecracks about the photographers and spoke to some of the reporters she knew personally. She has been visiting around Augusta and nearby Fort Gordon in the afternoons and this week made one of her infrequent shopping trips to a local supermarket.

The Eisenhowers plan to continue their vacation here for another week or 10 days, although the President will fly back to Washington for a speaking trip Monday.

SUSPECT CARRIES MURDER VICTIM'S IDENTITY CARDS

Man Held in Oregon Was Driving Auto Used by Thomas G. Kimber of St. Louis.

A man carrying identification cards of Thomas G. Kimber, who was found murdered in his apartment here last Saturday, is under arrest in Medford, Ore., on an automobile theft charge, police reported today.

The man, who said he is Leland Duane Benson, 33 years old, Breckenridge, Minn., was driving a company car assigned to Kimber. The Missouri license, 799-175, was issued to the St. Louis office of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, for which Kimber was a field representative.

Benson and two companions were arrested yesterday on a highway near Medford following a routine check by Oregon State Trooper B. Roger Clark. Following questioning about the driver's license, oil company credit cards and other credentials bearing Kimber's name, Benson admitted stealing the car in St. Louis, Clark told the Post-Dispatch by long-distance telephone today.

Found Cards In Car.

"He said he was drinking in St. Louis and stole the machine on the street about April 1," Trooper Clark related. "Benson said he found a billfold, containing the credentials, in the glove compartment, and he used the credit cards to obtain gasoline and small loans on the drive to the coast," Trooper Clark reported.

The other men in the stolen machine, said Benson invited them to ride with him, following a chance meeting in Seattle. One said he lives in Montana, the other in Washington. Both were held without charges pending further investigation.

St. Louis police recalled that Leland Benson, Spring Grove, Minn., was arrested here in 1953 suspected of interstate transportation of a stolen automobile. He was released at that time, after questioning. Following his arrest in Oregon yesterday, St. Louis police learned that Benson had been in St. Louis recently. He told

SONIC BOOMS STIR NEW BOOM — OF DAMAGE CLAIMS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11 (UPI)—The Air Force faced a booming business today in a field the airmen know well—sonic booms.

Such items as damaged plumbing and bulging ceilings turned up in claims resulting from a series of sonic booms the last week.

"Some of these claims seem a bit unusual," one Air Force officer observed. He added that they would all be reviewed carefully before any are paid.

One claimant put in for a plate glass window which it was admitted already had two bullet holes in it. Another said her ceiling had been sagging for 20 years but that booms caused the equivalent of a year's sag all in one day.

A man said his newly-laid sidewalk cracked, and a woman said her ceiling, already cracked, was "much worse now."

After a similar incident in Oklahoma City, thousands of claims were filed but only five were paid, an officer said.

CHICAGO CHOSEN FOR CONVENTION OF G.O.P. IN '60; MORTON NAMED

5 Other Cities Sought Gathering — Democrats to Meet Two Weeks Earlier in Los Angeles.

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP) —Republicans, preparing for the 1960 campaigns, elected Senator Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, as national chairman today and decided to hold their presidential nominating convention in Chicago.

The 51-year-old Morton, a supporter of President Eisenhower and friend of Vice President Richard M. Nixon was chosen without opposition to succeed Meade Alcorn of Connecticut, who is retiring.

The GOP national committee approval of Chicago for the 1960 convention, starting July 25, came almost immediately after a site selection committee recommended that city over five others bidding for the big political meeting.

It will take the Republican party back to Chicago where 100 years ago in 1860 it nominated Abraham Lincoln for the presidency.

Neither the convention site selection nor the election of Morton to head the committee brought any debate at the meeting.

Indorsed by President.

Ray C. Bliss of Ohio, chairman of a nominating committee that consulted with President Eisenhower yesterday in Augusta, Ga., offered Morton's name. He said Mr. Eisenhower gave his blessings to Morton and predicted the Kentuckian would do an excellent job.

Morton is serving his first term in the Senate after three terms in the House and several years as Assistant Secretary of State.

No other names were submitted for the chairmanship and no voice was raised against Morton. His election came by voice vote after a long series of seconding nominations.

Morton will retain his Senate seat while serving in the chairmanship. He will head the national committee through the party's 1960 convention. After the convention it will be up to the G.O.P. presidential nominee to announce his choice for the post.

Predicts Comeback.

In accepting the chairmanship Morton classed himself as a "middle of the road Republican. He was given a standing ovation when he declared "we're coming back" from a party low point in 1958 elections.

He called for firm support of President Eisenhower in seeking to balance the national budget, and said the party must wage its political fights next year on the philosophy of the administration.

"The people are getting behind the policies of the President," Morton told the committee. "What we have got to do is build the organization and raise the money."

Bliss was also chairman of the site selection committee which recommended Chicago for the convention.

The Democrats have picked Los Angeles for their national convention starting July 11.

Bliss said the Republican convention will meet in Chicago's International Amphitheater.

He said there was some sentiment in the selection committee for an August convention. But, Bliss said, the group finally concluded that Chicago's auditorium and hotel facilities offset the date factor.

Chicago had limited its bid of $400,000 cash plus a free

WEST GERMANY'S ERHARD URGES 'FLEXIBLE' POLICY, CHANGE FROM ADENAUER'S

CHINESE ANTI-REDS SAID TO FIGHT ON TIBETAN SIDE

Sikang Rebels May Be Remnant of Chiang's Army — Golok Nomads Reported in Revolt.

TOKYO, April 11 (AP)—Red China disclosed today that anti-Communist Chinese were fighting alongside Tibetan rebels and admitted the revolt was still on in the Himalayan kingdom.

The Peiping radio claimed only that the uprising had been crushed in the area of Lhasa, the Tibetan capital, and said Red troops were "now proceeding successfully to put down the armed rebellion in other places."

The Chinese Nationalist government on Formosa said about 100,000 Tibetan nomads — sword-wielding Goloks — had joined the revolt in the north.

Captured Arms.

The Peiping broadcast said the large quantity of arms seized in fighting the Tibetan rebels proved they were helped by anti-Communist Chinese still fighting in the old Sikang province of China.

Sikang borders Tibet in the southwest along the Yangtze river—a wild, mountainous region with ranges rising to 24,900 feet separated by canyon-like gorges.

The disclosure that the Sikang rebels—possibly remnants of Chiang Kai-shek's army on the mainland — were taking part in the Tibetan rebellion came in a report to the Chinese Communist Central Committee.

Chang Kuo-ha, one of the top Red Chinese experts in trying to convert Tibet to Communism, was quoted as saying "the upper strata of reactionaries in Tibet are closely linked with the rebels in the former Sikang province (now part of Red Szechwan)."

Chang said the fugitive Dalai Lama's former government in Tibet "came out more and more blatantly to support, supply and arm the rebels when part of the remnant rebels from the former Sikang province fled to Tibet."

His report as broadcast by the Peiping radio, did not say when the Sikang rebels fled.

Report by Taipei.

A week ago Nationalist China's official Central Daily News of Taipei, Formosa, said 10,000 Chinese Communist troops revolted in Sikang province in March and joined the Khamba (Tibetan) rebels. The report was attributed to an unidentified source in Hong Kong.

Red China has replaced the Dalai Lama's Tibetan government with a puppet regime under the Panchen Lama but the Communists have carefully refrained from making any per-

TOP CANDIDATE FOR CHANCELLOR HOPEFUL ABOUT SUMMIT TALKS

He Tells Business Convention That Soviet Efforts to Increase Western Contacts Show Promise.

© New York Times News Service

BONN, April 11—Dr. Ludwig Erhard has declared that "open-mindedness and flexibility" make for successful foreign policy provided that basic principles were defended.

His speech before the annual convention of the German Industry and Commerce Association was the first public statement of the Minister of Economics since Chancellor Adenauer announced his intention to give up that office. Erhard is considered the man most likely to succeed Adenauer.

Erhard veered into a discussion of foreign policy in a speech rapping the knuckles of West German business men for a lack of courage to face up to a newly arrived buyers' market in West Germany and abroad. He appeared to separate himself somewhat in general approach to international affairs from the current rigid attitude of Adenauer.

A summit conference could be a good thing, the Economics Minister told the 1700 industrialists meeting in Essen Thursday, for it could produce measures that would ease tensions and settle difficulties in many areas.

He saw Soviet efforts to increase contacts with Western industrial lands as a promising development. This was an admission that the Soviet seven-year plan of economic development could not be realized without improved economic relations with the West, said Erhard.

The Economics Minister scolded business men for raising the cry of protectionism because some "shadows" had fallen across parts of the West German economy.

The phrase "free economy" was no slogan but something to be taken seriously, Erhard said.

"Where freedom reigns there can be no rigidity," he said.

ADENAUER CAUSED TOUGHER STAND

By THOMAS J. HAMILTON
© New York Times News Service

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., April 11—Reliable sources said today that the personal intervention of Chancellor Adenauer was responsible for the tougher position taken by West Germany in later stages of the talks in Washington last week on the Berlin situation.

While Heinrich von Brentano, his Foreign Minister, was in Washington, Adenauer for the first time began reading Brentano's detailed reports on his discussions in Washington prior to the meeting of North Atlantic Treaty Organization foreign ministers.

Dependable sources say Adenauer decided Brentano was leaning toward what he considered an over-flexible policy. He then ordered his Foreign Minister to take a firmer line, as became evident when the NATO ministers began discussing the Western position.

How Nations Divided.

West Germany was supported by France, The Netherlands, Greece and Turkey, say these informants, and opposed by Britain, Canada, Norway and Denmark. The United States, it was learned, did not take a firm position but was nearer the British than the West German position. Other foreign ministers were understood to have reserved their position.

However, it was learned that Christian A. Herter, acting Secretary of State, complained quite sharply against the changed attitude stated by Brentano, and said that if he was going to take that position he should have done so in earlier discussions.

During the NATO discussions, it was understood, there was agreement on the major issues that should be discussed with the Soviet Union at the foreign ministers' conference in Geneva beginning May 11. Experts of the Big Three, plus West Germany, will start work in London next week on the following:

1. Measures to reaffirm the existing agreements with the Soviet Union on maintaining western garrisons in West Berlin, together with rights of access.

2. Some measures of arms limitation, including a freeze on armaments and armed

U.N. UNIT AFFIRMS CHILDREN'S 'RIGHT' TO BE SPANKED

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Radio.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., April 11—The United Nations Commission on Human Rights adopted a kind of international bill of rights for children yesterday which upholds their "right" to be spanked by both parents and teachers.

The "declaration of the rights of the child" was adopted by the 18-member commission after several years of debate. On Tuesday, the commission defeated a Soviet proposal to ban the use of the rod on school children.

The commission's action would seem to be support for a bill passed this year by the New York Legislature, which permits the spanking of children in school. The bill, heavily attacked, has not yet been signed by Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

The first international bill of rights for children, it will serve as a companion piece for the declaration of human rights.

MOB OF DOUKHOBOR WOMEN ATTACKS CANADIAN POLICE

KRESTOVA, B.C., April 11 (AP)—A mob of women attacked three Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers yesterday in a new outbreak of violence in British Columbia's strife-torn Doukhobor country.

The attack followed a raid of four homes Wednesday night. The raid was conducted after officers heard rumors that the radical Sons of Freedom had set up a school in a converted barn and were teaching Freedomite children in Russian.

The Sons of Freedom, who defy Canadian law, have long refused to send their children to Canadian schools, contending that the education they receive there leads to war and killing.

KILLS 3 CHILDREN WITH BAT, BEATS WIFE, ENDS LIFE

Father Who Had Been Ill Goes Mad—Badly Injured Wife Escapes From Home.

SPRINGFIELD, VA., April 11 (AP)—An aeronautical engineer today beat his three children to death with a baseball bat, injured his wife and killed himself with a butcher knife at his home in Springfield.

Police identified him as J. B. Matthews Jr., 40 years old, employed by the Federal Aviation Agency.

He was the son of the staff director of the Senate investigating subcommittee headed by the late Joseph McCarthy.

The children were Stephen Matthews, 13, Stephen's twin sister, Sharon, and Ann Susan Matthews, 14.

Mrs. Helen Matthews was beaten severely on the face before she broke out of the house and ran screaming for help.

Overpowered by Pouce.

Neighbors called police who found Matthews with his throat slashed. Officers said he still was berseerk and they had to overpower him before they could rush him to a hospital in Alexandria. He died there shortly afterward.

Neighbors said Matthews had been ill recently, complaining of headaches and eye trouble. They said he had planned to get a complete physical examination soon.

Police said he apparently finished breakfast before his family, went into the basement, got a baseball bat and then returned upstairs and started bludgeoning the family. A next-door neighbor, John Lee, said he understood Matthews was quite normal just before the attack.

Matthews's brother, Roy, and two sisters, Mrs. Grace Cressman and Mrs. Margaret Burd, live in Washington, N.J. Roy Matthews said he did not know what could have possibly brought on the tragedy.

Matthews was a graduate of Lehigh university. He earned

Rank Put in Mothballs, Ex-Sailor Gives $17,000 to Future Officers

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 11 (AP)—A $17,000 trust fund is to be established to help naval academy athletes through prep school thanks to a meek man who asked only one favor.

After traveling 600 miles by bus, the soft-spoken man waited patiently in an outside office yesterday to see Capt. Slade Cutter, Navy athletic director.

Once inside, he explained he was 62 years old, a retired Navy enlisted man, a bachelor. He had lived frugally all his life, had saved some money and wanted to help deserving academy athletes.

He took $23,000 in $100 bills from his pocket and gave it to the captain. Only at Cutter's insistance would the man take back $6000 in case of emergency.

He insisted he remain anonymous. He refused a receipt.

The favor?

After taking his visitor on a tour of the Navy-Marine Memorial Stadium under construction toward which the man had contributed $1000, the captain asked, "Is there anything else I can do "

"Well," the old sailor said hesitantly, "would you mind driving me back to the bus station?"

G.O.P. REVOLT AGAINST BENSON ENDED BY PARLEY AT WHITE HOUSE

North Dakota Official Drops Resignation Move After Meeting With Aids of Eisenhower.

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP) —A revolt brewing against Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson among farm belt Republican officials subsided yesterday after a White House conference.

Mark Andrews, G.O.P. national comitteeman from North Dakota, said "Oh, no, I'm not going ahead" with a resolution calling for Benson's resignation. Andrews said Thursday he might offer the resolution at a session of the Republican National Committee, now meeting in Washington.

The purpose of putting forward the idea of such a resolution, Andrews told a reporter, was "to bring attention to the problem." And he said yesterday he thought that had been accomplished.

The problem is that some Republicans believe Benson's policies displease many farmers, particularly in the Midwest. Andrews said that unless Benson leaves the cabinet, the G.O.P. faces the loss of "the heartland of Republicanism in 1960."

Against this background, Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn suggested Andrews and other interested party officials call at the White House. A few of them did, and spent an hour and a half with Robert E. Merriam, deputy assistant to the President, and Don Paarlberg, special assistant to the President for economic affairs.

President Eisenhower is vacationing in Augusta, Ga.

Nine national committeemen and state chairmen were supposed to show up for the White House meeting, but only three did. In addition to Andrews there were National Committeemen Robert Timm and State Chairman William Goodloe of Washington. A couple of representatives of the national committee also sat in.

"We were just talking in generalities," Andrews reported.

Asked whether Benson was one of the generalities, he replied: "He could very well have been."

He added: "I think the trouble, the main problem, is that the secretary is in the untenable position of trying to administer a Democrat law, when what we need is Republican law that is difficult to get through a Democrat Congress."

NEHRU ASSAILS DOWNING OF JET BY PAKISTANIS

NEW DELHI, April 11 (AP) —Prime Minister Nehru today called the shooting down of an Indian air force bomber by a Pakistani jet fighter "most serious and distressing."

Several members of parliament sought an immediate discussion of the incident, but Nehru stalled them off by saying Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon would make a statement later in the day.

The Pakistan air force admitted shooting down the Indian twin-engine Canberra jet bomber yesterday. The two crewmen survived, but suffered broken legs.

The official Pakistan statement said the bomber was brought down about 40 miles south of Pakistan's army headquarters at Rawalpindi after failing to obey an order to land.

The Indian Defense Ministry said the plane was on a routine flight and carried no arms.

In Karachi, the Pakistan government announced it would protest to the Indian government against what it called the violation of Pakistani air space.

STRIKES LIKELY FOR 3 MORE OF RUBBER'S BIG 4

AKRON, O., April 11 (UPI) —The remaining three of the rubber industry's Big Four appear almost certain to be hit by strikes when contracts expire next Wednesday.

Already about 27,000 United States Rubber Co. employes in 11 states are on strike. A United Rubber Workers Union spokesman said Akron union locals of B. F. Goodrich, Firestone and Goodyear workers have approved a strike by a 9 to 1 margin.

If the other three firms are struck, 56,000 more workers will be off their jobs.

Negotiations between Goodrich and the union are continuing in Canton, O., while Goodyear and Firestone are continuing talks in Cleveland.

L. S. Buckmaster, U.R.W. president, said the reason for the strike votes was to try to bring contract coverage for union members up to those of the United Auto Workers.

Wages are not involved in the dispute; Issues involved are pensions, insurance, severance pay and working conditions.

United States Rubber Co. employes went on strike early yesterday. Negotiations are to be resumed Tuesday. The company and union had been meeting in New York since March 3.

Chicago won over Philadelphia, New York, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Miami Beach.

Bliss said the site group picked Chicago for several reasons. One, he said, is that Chicago is a "neutral area" as far as Republican presidential nomination possibilities are concerned.

He said the only other neutral areas among the bidders were Philadelphia and Miami Beach. Bliss said New York and the two California cities were not regarded as neutral areas because Nixon, of California, and Nelson Rockefeller, of New York, are prospective candidates for the nomination.

A Republican victory in 1960 was predicted last night by both the President and Nixon.

Mr. Eisenhower sent a message to the meeting in Washington from his Georgia vacation headquarters at Augusta. He said such a victory would be assured "if we stand resolutely for, and work energetically to implement, those fundamentals in which we believe as Republicans."

Nixon told a banquet audience it is not enough for Republicans to believe in balanced budgets and private enterprise. He won a standing ovation from national committee members.

Policies Are Best.

Nixon said "we must make it clear that we do not believe in these things as ends in themselves, but as means to an end —that the reason we are for a balanced budget and that the reason we favor private enterprise rather than government enterprise is that we are convinced such policies are the best and surest ways for progress for the American people.

The national committee decided to start a monthly magazine to be distributed to party workers and contributors. It also agreed to study the possibility of establishing a more permanent magazine to be published by a separate corporation and sold to subscribers. This would be similar to the type of magazine the Democrats now have in the form of their Democratic Digest.

sonal attack on the fugitive god-king.

The flight to India of the 23-year-old Dalai Lama, revered by Buddhists as "the living Buddha," has stirred strong religious feelings in Asia against Red China.

Chang, in his broadcast report, attempted to quiet this mounting resentment. He declared Chinese Communist forces in Tibet had been ordered to "protect lamaseries . . . (and) respect the customs and habits of the people . . . and protect the freedom of religious belief."

Red Propaganda Line.

Communist propaganda has depicted the Dalai Lama as a victim of "reactionary" advisers.

Chang declared "considering that many people were forced, bullied or deceived into taking part in the armed rebellion (the Peiping government) is carrying out the policy of punishing without fail those guilty of major crimes and not punishing intimidated followers."

In New Delhi, Indian Foreign Ministry sources said the Dalai Lama is expected to reach Bomdila in northeast India on Monday.

The royal Tibetan party of refugees traveling on horseback through wild Indian mountain country will be met there by Prime Minister Nehru's special envoy P. N. Menon.

Bufalino is head of Detroit Teamster Local 985 and an associate of Teamster chieftain James R. Hoffa. In three days of testimony, the Rackets Committee has heard testimony that Bufalino:

1. Moved into the presidency of Local 985 from a business partnership with John (Poppa John) Priziola, alleged Mafia mobster and narcotics peddler.

2. Forced low-paid Detroit car washers into his union, then negotiated contracts with the employers that slashed their pay to as low as $25 for a seven-day, 70-hour week.

3. Was connected with stink-bombing of taverns and smashing of juke boxes in order to help his brother-in-law sell a competing line of juke boxes. He was not accused of any specific act, however.

Bufalino asked the committee's permission to read a statement when he is called as a witness. He said he would not waive any of his constitutional rights by reading the statement. But his lawyer said Bufalino did not intend to invoke the Fifth Amendment, as so many witnesses have done already.

PEREZ JIMENEZ AND FAMILY TO STAY IN U.S. UNTIL MAY 15

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—The Immigration Service said yesterday it has granted Marcos Perez Jimenez, the exiled Venezuelan dictator, permission to remain in the United States with his wife and their four children until May 15. The family has been living in Miami Beach, Fla., since fleeing from Venezuela in an uprising early in 1958.

Perez Jimenez was notified in March that his visiting privileges had expired and that he must leave the United States by April 15.

The Immigration Service said the extension to May 15 was granted because the former dictator still is canvassing a number of countries for future residence.

RAILROADS PROPOSE PAY CUT, UNIONS SAY

CLEVELAND, April 11 (AP) —United States railroads have proposed a 15-cent hourly wage cut, effective Nov. 1, two railroad brotherhoods reported today.

The wage cut is contained in counter-proposals served on the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Order of Railway Conductors and the Switchmen's Union. The report came from Guy L. Brown, head of the engineers.

The unions said two months ago they would seek a 12 per cent increase in wage rates for the more than 50,000 locomotive engineers.

"How ridiculous can management get?" Brown said. President W. A. Fleete of the Switchmen's Union said: "Railroad profits are shooting up. They don't really expect to get away with such a counter-proposal."

Brown said a uniform wage notice was served on union committees by the railroads calling for a wage decrease of $1.20 a day and elimination of the cost-of-living escalator clause in all brotherhood contracts.

The three-year contract the locomotive engineers have with the railroads expires Nov. 1. Present average daily rates for engineers are:

Passenger service, $19.92; through freight service, $23.26; local and way freight service, $22.75; yard service (all types) $22.42.

All major railroads are involved in the negotiations with the unions.

Plane on Island Mountain Believed to Be U.S. Navy Craft Missing With 10 Aboard.

TOKYO, April 11 (AP) — Rescue squads began scaling an island mountain off the South Korean coast today to inspect wreckage believed that of a missing United States Navy seaplane with 10 Americans aboard.

The Japanese Coast Guard reported spotting the wreckage earlier today. The Navy later verified the report.

United States Navy ground crews started up a mountain on Cheju island when bad flying conditions prevented helicopters from reaching the wreckage.

The plane left Iwakuni Air Base in Japan early Thursday on a training flight and was last heard from Thursday afternoon near Cheju off the southern end of South Korea.

HENNINGS SEEKS BROADER RESERVE BOARD MAKE-UP

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP) — Senator Thomas C. Hennings (Dem.), Missouri, introduced a bill yesterday to require broader representation of economic interests on the Federal Reserve Board.

Hennings explained the Federal Reserve Act now requires the President, in naming the Federal Reserve Board of Governors, to give "due regard for a fair representation of the financial, agricultural, industrial and commercial interests and the geographical divisions of the country." The bill would require also "fair representation" of the interests of small business, labor and consumers.

Morocco Protests Over Seizure Of Czech Arms Cargo by France

Ship Unloaded Despite Casablanca's Warning to Paris About Grave Effect on Relations.

© New York Times News Service

PARIS, April 11—A Moroccan protest was lodged here Thursday night against French seizure of a Czech ship heading for Casablanca with an arms shipment.

The ship, the Lidice, was seized Wednesday off the Algerian coast near Oran and was brought into the naval base of Mers-El-Kebir where despite protests it is now being unloaded.

The protest was delivered to French Minister of Foreign Affairs Maurice Couve de Murville by Moroccan Ambassador Abdel Latif Ben-Jelloun. The Moroccan note warned about the "grave" effect of the French action on relations with Morocco which up to now have been good.

King and De Gaulle to Meet.

French officials are known to be concerned about the same thing because of the big effort made to put French-Moroccan relations on a friendly basis. A meeting between President De Gaulle and King Mohammed V is planned, possibly for June.

At the same time officials were not inclined to be apologetic about the seizure, a procedure resorted to in the past by the French Navy patrolling Algerian waters. The Navy has been steadily hailing ships, searching some and bringing a few into port for unloading in an effort to halt the arms traffic to the Algerian rebels.

Officials in Algeria declared that the arms aboard the Lidice had not been mentioned in the ship's manifest. Although a bill of lading existed for them, only the manifest is valid, it was contended. The manifest described the ship's destination as Haiphong in Communist North Viet Nam and the ship's course had been changed to Casablanca, according to the same authorities.

Enough for a Division.

French dispatches from Oran last night said the arms seemed to be sufficient to equip an infantry division.

It had been stated previously in Rabat by the Czech commercial mission there that the ship had both destinations, the arms being destined for Morocco and other merchandise for China and Indonesia. It was stated that an accord between Rabat and Prague called for two arms shipments, the first of which was delivered in January. The French fear the arms will find their way across the Moroccan border to the rebels in Algeria.

French officials in Oran were quoted as saying that they knew the Algerian rebels were due to receive Czech arms at the beginning of April. Consequently it was said that the Lidice's movements had been followed from the time it left the Polish port of Gdynia until it was halted by order of the government.

FRENCH ARREST 465 ALGERIANS IN SERIES OF RAIDS

© New York Times News Service

PARIS, April 11—In an attempt to keep the Algerian terrorist organization in France off balance, French police forces have arrested 465 Algerians in raids in various parts of France.

Those arrested were described as "nationalist agitators." Lyons, Marseille, Toulouse and Strasbourg were among the cities singled out for police action.

Rivalry between the different nationalist organizations produced gunfire between Algerians in Paris this week in which two persons were killed and seven wounded.

The Paris Journal complained that gang-style killings by Arab gunmen are becoming so frequent that Parisians no longer feel safe.

The newspaper lamented that "the City of Light" may seen come to be known as "Chicago on the Seine."

CHARGES WILL BE DROPPED AGAINST YALE SNOWBALLERS

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 11 (AP)—City court today decided not to prosecute the 42 Yale students charged with participating in two tussles with police. Judge Charles Henchel gave nisi continuances until June 1 in all cases.

In effect, this means the charges will be dropped at that time unless there is a change in the situation.

Few of the students were in court to answer the charges, most of them breach of peace. They were accused of throwing snowballs at police March 12 and 14. Police used fire hoses and billy clubs to put down the March 14 uprising.

CASTRO LIKELY TO SEE NIXON ON HIS VISIT TO U.S.

Vice President 'Looking Forward' to Talk With Cuban Premier Next Week.

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon wants to talk with Fidel Castro, and they may get together during the Cuban premier's visit here next week.

Castro's only scheduled visit with a United States Government official so far is a luncheon in his honor arranged by Acting Secretary of State Christian Herter.

But reports are circulating here that a meeting between Castro and Nixon is certain. In Florida on vacation recently, Nixon told newsmen he is "looking forward to the opportunity to meet and talk with Fidel Castro."

Because of the unofficial nature of Castro's visit, it was not considered likely there would be any formal occasion such as a luncheon, dinner or reception given by Nixon. But, officials said, there is nothing to stop Nixon from meeting with Castro at his office or his home for an informal conversation.

There also have been unofficial reports that Castro may have expressed a desire to see Nixon.

President Eisenhower, on a golfing vacation in Augusta, Ga., returns to Washington Monday for a Republican women's meeting and for dedication of a statue to the late Senator Robert A. Taft Tuesday morning. He will fly back to Augusta Tuesday afternoon. Castro arrives here Wednesday night, and will stay until April 20.

It is considered likely that Castro will want to talk to other government officials while he is here. Castro will address the American Society of Newspaper Editors next Friday. His luncheon with Herter is set for Thursday.

IMPORTANT!

Enough of the U. S. Tangle Towns entries have now been checked to show that a large number of players have demonstrated their skill by solving ALL of the 66 puzzles correctly. Therefore,

A Tie Exists for All of the 1084 Cash Prizes

This is because the number of entrants with perfect scores in the series of 66 puzzles exceeded the number of prizes. Under these circumstances, it will be necessary to publish Tie-Breaking Puzzles as called for in Rule 2 (c) of the Official Rules. Rule 2 (c) states, in part:

"(c) In case more than one person solves correctly the same number of puzzles, the prize tied for, and as many subsequent prizes as there are persons tied, will be reserved and those so tying will be required to solve a set of 20 tie-breaking puzzles, each puzzle also to be a group of scrambled letters, to determine the order in which the reserved prizes will be awarded. These puzzles will be made up of scrambled letters forming the names of either one or two places in the United States. Clues will be given beneath each drawing indicating whether the puzzles contain one or two place names to be identified. These 20 tie-breaking puzzles will be printed in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch."

Therefore, if you CORRECTLY SOLVED THE NAMES IN ALL OF THE 66 U. S. TANGLE TOWNS PUZZLES WITH NO MISTAKES IN THE ANSWERS as published in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch beginning Sunday, April 5, 1959, and continuing through Friday, April 10, 1959, you MUST, according to the Official Rules, submit your answers to the 20 Tie-Breaking Puzzles IN ORDER TO COMPETE FOR THE PRIZES IN THE TIE. These 20 Tie-Breaking Puzzles will be published in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch on Sunday, April 12, 1959.

BARTHOLOMEW WARNS AGAINST WASTEFUL LAND USE IN COUNTY

Says Unnecessarily Large Areas Are Opened to Urban Growth—Urges Unified Government.

The St. Louis area must set up some form of over-all, unified government to deal with metropolitan problems if deterioration in the city and wasteful land use in St. Louis county are to be avoided, Harland Bartholomew, city planning engineer, warned yesterday.

Addressing the third annual building code conference at St. Louis University, he said the population of St. Louis and St. Louis county probably will increase by about 650,000 persons in the next 20 years, and this growth should not be permitted to take place in a disorganized way.

"It is all too apparent that as of today unnecessarily large land areas have been opened to urban use," Bartholomew declared. "While these can be absorbed by the prospective new growth, shall we continue to permit excessive expansion? This is our greatest danger. Lacking adequate over-all land use controls, new development will spread indiscriminately without regard for ultimate costs.

Cites Difficulties.

"Two formidable difficulties are thus created: (1) Economic waste from too-scattered spread, and (2) instability and deterioration induced within existing development both in St. Louis and in presently developed sections of St. Louis county.

"It is not necessary here to expand upon the fact that the lure of suburban development psychologically undermines confidence and value in blilt-up areas—city and county both. This occurs despite the fact that much of the suburban development may be of lower standard and much more susceptible to rapid deterioration.

"A thorough study of the economics of the timing in providing public services would show undoubtedly that in the present processes of metropolitan development, the growth has already spread over considerably greater areas than can economically be justified. To continue this wasteful method of land use, of widespread expansion and development, is merely to pile up future deficits and difficulties of great magnitude."

The city of St. Louis has little vacant land for absorbing new growth, and the eastern portion of St. Louis county is developed to the point where it cannot accommodat much growth without substantial changes in land use pattern, Bartholomew pointed out.

Sufficient Area.

The large partially-developed and undeveloped portions of the county provide more than sufficient room to accommodate anticipated expansion in the next 20 years at sound and reasonable levels of population density, he continued, but the land use pattern is a big question mark. The County Planning Commission is now completing a land use survey, but as yet there is no officially adopted land use plan, he noted.

Discussing the waste involved in uncontrolled growth, Bartholomew said:

"The owner of a great department store in a large metropolitan area has now built three suburban stores. He says his firm can afford possibly two others, but he is absolutely certain they cannot afford 10 more.

"Excessive urban sprawl causes great overhead costs for private enterprise as well as for public services. It is both unwise and unnecessary to permit the great central business district to deteriorate. Each metropolitan city must have a central core, a heart. No suburban shopping center can take the place of the great multi-purpose center.

Movement from City.

"One family of my acquaintance within two generations has built seven houses, each successively further removed from the center of the city. Not all families can afford such expense. Many, however, have been compelled to make several such moves. They should not all be necessary, but they are generated by the instability induced by excessive dispersal.

"What about the areas that have been left behind? We all know that the oldest ones are now slums, a few of lesser age are barely holding their own, while most are in various stages of blight and deterioration. It has been demonstrated that we are creating new slums and blighted areas annually considerably greater in extent than present or foreseeable programs of urban renewal."

It is not possible to escape area-wide problems by incorporating small municipalities, Bartholomew warned, but on the other hand the desire of citizens to protect their home environment and safeguard neighborhood values must not be overlooked.

Calls for New Plans.

"We must have new plans, an over-all metropolitan or regional plan, and also genuinely effective unit area and neighborhood plans," Bartholomew said. "We must have either new or reorganized forms of governmental administration with power to give effect to these plans. Only in some such approach as this can we hope to build our new metropolitan areas with sound standards and, we hope, with sufficient attractiveness in design to be adequately representative of this presumably enlightened stage of civilization."

Bartholomew served as engineer for the St. Louis Plan Commission for 34 years. His firm, Harland Bartholomew & Associates, has helped plan development of many large cities in the United States and Canada. Since his appointment as chairman of the National Capital Planning Commission in 1953, Bartholomew has maintained a home in Washington as well as in St. Louis.

CRYSTAL CLOUDY, MAN IN SEER'S FUTURE IS A JUDGE

Mrs. Patsy Marie Marks of St. Joseph, Mo., did not foresee her future yesterday and as a result she landed in St. Louis county jail, charged with fortune telling.

Mrs. Marks's crystal ball began clouding up about the time Detective Harold Brown of St. Louis county police walked into her establishment at 9810 Gravois road, Affton. He said he handed her five crisp, marked $1 bills in exchange for a glimpse into the future.

After being told he would live to be an octogenarian, Brown said, he was informed he had recently been promoted. Just last Tuesday, the officer related, he was promoted to head of the police department's vice unit.

Mrs. Marks took a hasty peek into her crystal ball and declared: "You're a man with a soft heart, don't you want to let me go?" Brown replied, "No."

Kimber, 27 years old, was last seen alive about 1:30 a.m. March 31 when he entered his apartment, 4512 Westminster place, with another man who occasionally spent the night there. His body, with the skull fractured above the left ear, was found on his bed last Saturday after business associates became concerned when there was no reply to their telephone calls to the apartment. Benson does not answer the description of the man seen with Kimber.

A hammer, believed to have been the murder weapon, was found in a second bedroom of the apartment. Missing were Kimber's wallet, keys, wrist watch and dog.

Kimber collected fees for ASCAP and usually carried about $200, police were told. The 1958 automobile also was missing. It was thought to have been parked in front of the apartment building. The engine and serial numbers of the car recovered in Oregon were those of the missing machine.

WOUNDED YOUTH IDENTIFIED AS THIEF

Marvis Mobis, who was shot in the left leg Thursday by a policeman in a chase, has been identified as the robber in two recent holdups at downtown hotels, police said yesterday.

Witnesses said Mobis was the man who took $20 from the resident manager at the Laclede Hotel Saturday and $45 from a receiving clerk at the Mark Twain Hotel Wednesday.

Mobis, 19 years old, was shot by Patrolman Richard Jones after breaking away from the policeman at the MacArthur Hotel, 100 North Broadway.

Jones had been stationed at the hotel in an effort to break up a series of holdups. He was questioning Mobis, who had asked the room clerk for a job, when the youth broke away and ran.

PHARMACIST LELAND BINDER DIES OF HEART AILMENT

Leland B. Binder, a pharmacist at Knight Drug Co. for the last 10 years, died of a heart ailment yesterday at the drug store, 4500 Olive street. He was 53 years old and lived at 2121A College avenue.

Mr. Binder had been a pharmacist here since graduating from the St. Louis University College of Pharmacy in 1925. He had been active in fraternal organizations and professional pharmaceutical associations.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Vera Biest Binder; a daughter, Mrs. Richard Drake; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand H. Binder, and three brothers, George F., Jean and Russell Binder.

AUTOPSY REVEALS BULLET WOUND CAUSED MAN'S DEATH

The death of William E. Patrick at his home, 4541 McPherson avenue, Thursday night was caused by a bullet wound of the head, an autopsy revealed yesterday.

The death originally was attributed to natural causes. A small laceration of the head was thought to have resulted from a fall. An autopsy disclosed a .22-caliber bullet wound. Investigation revealed a rifle containing a discharged cartridge, and a note in Patrick's bedroom.

Patrick, 50 years old, was unemployed. He lived with his two sisters, Misses Clara and Belle Patrick.

9 Killed At Polish Mine.

WARSAW, April 11 (AP)—Nine workers were killed in an explosion at a mine in the Katowice mining district of Poland, reports from the area said last night. The blast was said to have occurred when workmen attempted to control a sudden flood of water in the mine.

HEART SURGERY SUCCESS, ILLINOIS GIRL GOES HOME

Priscilla Harrison of Colp, Ill., left St. Louis Children's Hospital today and was taken home by her parents. The delicate heart operation which she underwent March 25 was completely successful, physicians said.

Priscilla, 8 years old, is the youngest of 14 children of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Harrison. She was born with an abnormal opening between two chambers of her heart. The defect would have crippled her later in life. Her condition was known to many of the residents of Colp and 25 volunteers traveled the 125 miles from the southern Illinois coal mining town by bus to give blood for the child.

A team of surgeons from the Barnes Hospital group performed the operation, which required use of a heart-lung to maintain circulation while Priscilla's heart was stopped.

Priscilla's father, a disabled coal miner, and her mother drove to St. Louis for the child. "We are so very happy our daughter is well," Harrison said. "I would like to thank everyone personally," said her mother. The operation and hospital care were paid for by the Illinois Crippled Children's Society.

ADALBERT VON GONTARD HEADS HOSPITAL GROUP

Adalbert von Gontard, vice chairman of the board of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., has been elected chairman of the lay advisory board of St. John's Hospital, it was announced today.

He succeeds Richard C. Muckerman, who died last month. Harry L. Simmons, director of personnel for Scullin Steel Co., and Robert S. Hannigan, sales manager for B-1 Bottling Co., were elected members of the hospital board.

Von Gontard is general chairman of a campaign to collect $3,000,000 for construction of a new St. John's Hospital at Ballas and Conway roads in St. Louis county.

WOMAN HOLDS TO HER STORY IN TEEL SHOOTING

Defendant Insists at Trial That Lover Was Shot in Struggle Over Pistol.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 11 (AP) — Nearly four hours of cross examination hammering yesterday failed to shake the story of Mrs. Minnie B. (Connie) Nicholas that she did not mean to kill her married lover, one of her lawyers said today.

Attorney Charles W. Symmes, said. "The state couldn't get her to make any substantial change in her testimony." The case will be resumed Monday.

The 44-year-old, twice-divorced woman appeared exhausted when she left the witness stand after testifying that wealthy drug executive Forrest Teel was shot to death last July 31, in a struggle over her pearl-handled .25 caliber pistol. Her version of the killing and her near suicide wound up the fourth week of the trial.

Queried About Bursitis.

Deputy Prosecutor Francis Thomason pounded hard on her admitted dates with Teel over a period of 15 years through two marriages. He also asked question after question about an old bursitis condition in her right shoulder and her habit of taking large quantities of sleeping drugs.

The queries about the bursitis and drugs were aimed at blasting the defendant's contention that her paralyzed right arm was hurt in a struggle with Teel, 54 -year-old Eli Lilly & Co. executive vice president. The state argues the arm condition was caused by her cramped position in her car for about 19 hours after trying to kill herself by taking 75 sleeping capsules.

In reply to prosecution questions, Mrs. Nicholas said she wrote several suicide notes on July 3, a full four weeks before Teel was shot in his white Cadillac.

The name of Miss Laura Mowrer, the secretary Teel was visiting just before his death, was added to one of the letters later after she trailed him to Miss Mowrer's apartment, Mrs. Nicholas said.

Contemplated Suicide.

"Referring to July 3, when you wrote all these letters," Thomason asked, "you were contemplating suicide on that date."

Replied Mrs. Nicholas: "I had it very definitely in mind."

3 BOYS BEAT, ROB SALESMAN IN VAUGHN APTS.

Two Suspects, 13 and 14 Years Old, Arrested — Victim in Hospital.

Malcolm Scholl, a salesman, suffered a skull injury when he was beaten and robbed of $30 and his wallet by three boys in the George L. Vaughn Apartments, 1229 North Eighteenth street, late yesterday.

Police later arrested two boys, 13 and 14 years of age, who were identified by a witness as two of the assailants. The boys, held for juvenile authorities, denied participating in the attack.

Scholl, 55 years old, was found dazed near a first-floor entrance after tenants called police. A witness reported she saw the boys beating Scholl on the fifth floor a short time previously. When she approached, the boys ran down the stairs, the woman said. Their victim made his way to the first floor before he collapsed.

Scholl, who lives at 3844 Fillmore street, is in City Hospital.

Mrs. Katherine Heller and Mrs. Donna Heller, operators of a drug store at 1201 Chouteau avenue, were robbed of $69 yesterday by two young men who made their escape on a bus.

The men entered the store at 4:30 p.m. One asked for razor blades, then displayed a revolver and ordered the women to lie on the floor.

After stealing the contents of the cash register, the men ran to a bus stop and boarded a northbound Carondelet bus. Police learned the men got off at Ninth and Walnut streets.

John Clausen, an insurance collector, was accosted in the 700 block of North Beaumont street yesterday by a man who ordered Clausen to "drop everything." The robber, armed with a knife, picked up Clausen's collection book, containing $82, and fled with a second man.

An 18-year-old youth was found hiding in the Buckeye Trading Corp., 1015 Papin street, last night after police answered a burglar alarm. The youth, held as a burglary suspect, said he entered the building through an insecure window "to catch pigeons."

Police have been asked to search for an employe of a market at 5106 North Broadway, who failed to return from a bank with $1586 he was instructed to withdraw to cash customers' checks last night.

After the employe was reported missing by Gilbert Goldenhersh, the store manager, a company car the employe had used was found abandoned at Seventeenth street and Delmar boulevard. There was a deposit slip in the car for checks the employe had taken to the bank, but the cash was not there. The missing man did not return home.

43,000 SEAL SKINS SOLD IN RECORD AUCTION HERE

More than 43,000 seal skins were sold yesterday for a total of $3,519,167 at the largest auction ever held by the Fouke Fur Co., 1328 South Kingshighway. Prices paid for individual skins were up between 9.5 and 23.1 per cent above last year.

The company sold 29,406 skins for an average of $99.71 each for the account of the United States and Japan under terms of a treaty governing disposition of skins from the Pribilof islands. The total received for these skins was $2,932,088.

For the accounts of the Union of South Africa and private shippers, the company sold 12,878 skins at an average price of $39.76 each, bringing a total of $512,086. These skins were 23.1 per cent higher than last year, because of their finer quality.

Skins offered for the account of Uruguay were in small lots. They brought an average of $29.46 each for a total of $74,088. A spokesman for Fouke said the sale was well attended by buyers from Canada and European countries.

RULES INTERNATIONAL SHOE INTERFERED IN NLRB VOTE

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 11—The National Labor Relations Board today found that International Shoe Co. interferred with a bargaining election held at the firm's plant in Salem, Mo., last Oct. 16. A new election was ordered.

The board held that announcement by the concern of a proposed wage increase the day before the election "was calculated to, and did, interfere with the election." In the election, production and maintenance employes, by a vote of 182 to 187, rejected the United Shoe Workers of America, AFL-CIO, as bargaining agent.

The board's action approved a recommendation by Salvatore Cosentino, regional NLRB director at St. Louis. The new bargaining election is to be held within 30 days.

TRUCK DRIVER IS INJURED

Robert McCulloch of Festus suffered fractured ribs and multiple contusions when a gravel truck he was driving swerved off Missouri Highway 141 and struck a utility pole in Jefferson county near the St. Louis county boundary yesterday. He is in St. Joseph Hospital, Kirkwood.

WOMAN, 72, DIES IN BLAZE IN HER TWO-ROOM HOME

Miss Anna Balantine Is Found on Floor — Fire Attributed to Defective Wiring.

Miss Anna Balantine, 72 years old, was burned to death last night in a fire in her two-room home at 4513 (rear) Oregon avenue.

Firemen, responding to an alarm at 10 p.m., found Miss Balantine lying on the floor. She was pronounced dead at City Hospital.

The fire apparently started from defective wiring and caused damage estimated at $300, firemen said. Miss Balantine lived alone in the small frame building.

SUIT OVER CONVERTING HOME TO MULTIPLE-UNIT BASIS

Suit to enjoin Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Spindler from using their three-story residence at 4731 Westminster place as a multiple-family dwelling, allegedly in violation of the city zoning ordinance, was filed yesterday in Circuit Court.

The petition, filed by Assistant City Counselor Freeman Martin, alleged that the building has been divided into three separate dwelling units, two of which are occupied. The residence is in a district zoned for "A"—single family dwellings, under the city's comprehensive zoning ordinance, the petition stated.

The ordinance was enacted to conserve value of buildings and unless the Spindlers are restrained, the value of property in the district will be diminished and the district will be generally injured, the petition stated.

'HOT ROD' MOORE POSTS PEACE DISTURBANCE BOND

Robert H. (Hot Rod) Moore, traffic law violator, surrendered to police yesterday and posted $500 bond for police court appearance on a charge of peace disturbance.

He had been sought on complaint of Miss Delores Musterman, a telephone operator, who reported that Moore was waiting outside her apartment, 5621 Waterman boulevard, early last Wednesday and beat her with his fists. Moore was arrested last month following a quarrel with Miss Musterman and her two sisters.

Moore, 27 years old, gave his address as 4 Doerschlen lane, Frontenac, the home of his father, Dr. Harry G. Moore. He is scheduled to appear in police court April 21.

Letters from the People

Correcting a Speech

Not long ago, Daniel P. Loomis, president of the Association of American Railroads, addressed a meeting at St. Louis. In his speech Mr. Loomis repeatedly referred to so-called "featherbedding" on the American railroads, and made specific reference to an instance where a road freight engineer received an additional day's pay because of being required to move his train a few car lengths in a freight yard.

I checked the authenticity of Mr. Loomis's statement and found the claim involved moving the train an additional 40 car lengths beyond the clearance point after the train had already been yarded, which is definitely yard work. The date of the occurrence was July 31, 1951. The First Division of the National Railroad Adjustment Board sustained payment of the claim in Award No. 17377 on Feb. 23, 1956, almost five years later.

The agreement between the union and the railroad involved specifically prohibited the particular move. There is a definite line of demarcation between road and yard service. The rule was mutually agreed upon and acceptable to the railroad representatives, as well as the unions. Is it asking too much of Mr. Loomis and railroad management to live up to agreements they sign and help negotiate?

Perhaps the only "featherbedding" involved is the soft treatment afforded the carriers under the Railway Labor Act, as it took almost five years to bring to a satisfactory conclusion the incident to which Mr. Loomis refers. Had this same situation arisen in the building trades and a contractor used one craft to perform the functions of another, a jurisdictional strike would have immediately resulted. Perhaps the railroad brotherhoods are too tolerant and should adopt the more direct approach.

In my opinion, Mr. Loomis has deliberately distorted the issue and is seeking, through the use of the newspapers and propaganda, to escape from rules and agreements to which the railroads have previously committed themselves.

How to Use the Surplus

What kind of a Christian country is America when it hoards mountains of food when the world is filled with hunger—food that we do not need and that is only "a pain in the neck"?

We should turn this vast surplus over to the United Nations immediately and ask it to send the food where it is needed.

President Eisenhower can simply appoint one more body of experts — this time to help the U.N. with the distribution.

Safety on the River

The Post-Dispatch is to be complimented for its factual reporting and excellent photograph in the coverage of the near tragic boat accident on the Mississippi river last Sunday. Undoubtedly, this will help acquaint pleasure boaters with the necessity of staying clear of moored barges—particularly of the upstream side.

The National Safe Boating Committee, of which I am chairman, is currently conducting a widespread educational campaign to promote safe practices on waters used jointly by operators of commercial and pleasure craft. In the United States Coast Guard Auxiliary's Eight-Lesson Course on Safe Boat Handling, N.S.B.C. warns: "Never maneuver your boat upstream of a moored barge —or a fleet of moored barges in a river where there is a current. An extremely powerful undertow exists at the upstream end of the barge. This undertow is powerful enough to draw an average pleasure craft under the barge. It is unusual for boaters caught in such a trap to escape with their lives."

N.S.B.C. also advises, "If it is necessary — in an emergency — to approach a moored barge, always approach from downstream. In that way, in the event of motor failure, you and your craft will not be drawn beneath the barge."

It is indeed fortunate that young Gordon Anzalone managed to swim safely from beneath the barge after his small outboard capsized while he was attempting to rescue the four persons aboard Orville Bremer's cabin cruiser.

I should like to point out that the Coast Guard Auxiliary provides a courtesy safety inspection for boatmen who request it. Among the requirements for passing the examination are that the boat be equipped with a paddle or oar and an anchor with sufficient line to hold a craft when experiencing difficulties such as occurred to the Bremer cruiser.

Steamroller for the Trucks

Your headline states: "Bigger Trucks Okayed in Missouri House by a Vote of 100 to 9." How come? Every motorist in the state is against this law. How, then, does it get past the House?

Housewife

Missouri's Electric Bill

The proposed joint legislative study of the best ways to supply electric power and heat for all state institutions is one which we believe could be very useful. The House has passed and sent to the Senate a resolution introduced by Representative F. E. Robinson, of Edina. Representative Robinson was chairman of a special House Appropriations subcommittee which recently studied the University of Missouri's request for a $750,000 addition to its power plant.

Should a specific state institution generate its own power or purchase from an outside supplier? If the latter, which outside supplier should receive the award? These questions have arisen in recent months at state hospitals in Fulton, Nevada and Farmington, and at proposed new prisons in Moberly and Tipton, as well as at the state university in Columbia. Some more objective standard is needed than that of Gov. Blair that private utilities are as a general principle the best sources of electricity for state institutions, or that of Director of Public Health and Welfare C. Rouss Gallop that "I had been taught to go with the people who are in the business of selling power."

The answer to the question of what is the best way to obtain power and heat may vary from institution to institution and from time to time. So what is needed is not an inflexible ukase but a means of letting the weight of objective facts decide. The fact that heating requirements can be produced by the same plant that generates the power should decidedly be taken into consideration.

If the institution purchases rather than produces its power requirements, co-operatives and other competitive systems should receive equal consideration with private companies, although Gov. Blair cannot recall a single instance in which one of them has received a state contract. The considered judgment of the authorities responsible for running the institution should also be worthy of consideration. At the university, for instance, the school administration declared installation of new generating equipment "the only solution to consider," and said it would pay for itself in five years, but Gov. Blair brushed the recommendation summarily aside.

A special legislative study of this whole subject can perform a useful service if those who make it have the courage to let the facts speak for themselves, regardless of whose toes are trodden. The recent investigation of the Fulton power contract by a House committee headed by Representative Cornelius Costello was a labor of quite another sort, which left the problem more pressing than it found it. An inquiry of the scope Representative Robinson envisions is still needed, if it is made solely on the basis of what is best for the State.

Baseball as Usual?

As the process of having the New York Yankees win the American League pennant and maybe the world's series, too, again gets under way, it may or may not be significant that Bill Veeck is back in the big leagues. How a fan feels about Veeck's return—this time as impresario of the Chicago White Sox —depends on whether or not he would like to see some changes made. Veeck is all for changes.

For example, he wants at least a once-around series between the National and American league teams. He already has the Detroit Tigers with him on this. With Chicago the only two-club city, he may get even more support. But this hardly is radical enough for Veeck. He also advocates putting an end to the reign of the Yankees.

That is a really big proposition; but what could have more fan appeal?

Berkeley Being Reasonable

Berkeley's city manager, Gordon E. Olson, is a reasonable man. He believes in having Berkeley vote, fair and square, to annex the St. Louis airport—over and over again. And he is hurt by the unreasonableness of Mayor Tucker, the airport tenants and the people of St. Louis—who own the place—because they balk like Missouri mules at having it taken over in this democratic fashion.

"Berkeley and St. Louis could work together in this," says Mr. Olson. "We could help each other." Berkeley is willing to assign a few of its handsomely uniformed policemen to the airport. It is ready to send over the village fire truck in case of trouble. And it is more than eager to have its tax collector pay regular calls. Mr. Olson and the other Berkeley city panjandrums don't mind a bit that the airport has police protection and specially trained fire-fighters. They would be glad to have the city continue these safeguards — if only to show how all can "work together."

Yes, City Manager Olson is a reasonable, reasonable man. But we would wager that his love for municipal togetherness stops short of wanting St. Louis to annex Berkeley in the same way Berkeley wants to annex the airport. Mayor Tucker may be most unreasonable, but there is a certain honest freshness about his blunt description of the Berkeley move as a tax grab that will be fought to the end in the courts.

Cure for Cumbersomeness

The cumbersomeness which a member of the Federal Communications Commission, Rosel H. Hyde, deplores in the federal regulatory agencies, is unquestionably undesirable, and we hope the agencies themselves will strive constantly to keep their procedures uncluttered. But the proposal of a professor of government at the University of Texas, Emmette S. Redford, for increasing the efficiency of the agencies, is more undesirable still. Prof. Redford would place the regulatory commissions directly under the supervision of the Executive branch of the Government, he told a meeting of the American Society for Public Administration.

Independence is the greatest and the most indispensable virtue of these quasi-judicial agencies. If they were ever made the instruments of partisan maneuver, they could oppress the businesses they are supposed to regulate and exploit the public they are intended to protect. That is why they have been carefully insulated from the partisan pressures in the Executive branch.

In the name of efficiency the first Hoover commission proposed allowing the President to designate the chairmen of several regulatory agencies and empowering the chairmen to direct the day-to-day work of the commissions. Congress agreed, and it has not worked out well. Efficiency may have been improved, but independence has certainly been impaired.

Representative Harris of Arkansas has introduced a bill to restore to each regulatory commission the right to select its own chairman. We would like to see that bill enacted, and then to see the commissions themselves undertake a determined streamlining of their overgrown procedures.

Tinkering With the Fed

Senator Hennings's proposal to require representation for labor, small business and consumers on the Federal Reserve Board has certain attractions. Certainly those interests, along with others, ought to be kept in mind by the Board when it fixes monetary policies. But above and beyond every single group interest, whether of labor, banking, or business big or small, the Board's decisions should be governed by the total interest of the national economy as a whole. It is by no means certain that this objective would be advanced by appointing a "labor" member or a "consumer" member or a "small business" member.

If the present board is overloaded with spokesmen for one economic group — big business — the situation would not necessarily be improved by a legislative mandate for more appointments of one-group spokesmen. The better remedy might be to insist on appointments of men genuinely dedicated to the over-all economic interest. The Senate, through its power to confirm the appointees, enjoys a fine opportunity to do just that.

The Hennings proposal is another expression of Democratic restiveness over the Federal Reserve Board's anti-inflationary credit policies. But though the Democrats do a great deal of complaining about high interest rates and what they paint as a wickedly restrictive monetary policy, they seldom offer a specific or practical alternative. The politically unpalatable but inescapable truth is that credit must be restrained in times of inflationary pressure just as it must be relaxed in deflationary times. It is the Federal Reserve Board's duty to pursue the right credit policy for the right time irrespective of political or group pressures.

The Board can be criticized for the way in which it carries out its mandate. For example, some respected critics contend the Board is now applying the brakes of monetary policy too soon in the recovery cycle. But disputing when to apply the brakes is one thing, and attacking the application of them at all is another. It is a vital function of the Board, which must be performed independently of politics if it is to be performed at all, to restrict credit at certain times. The Board needs members who will decide when and how much to do so on the basis of the total national economic interest rather than any group interest.

Bank for the New World

The 21 American republics have finished drafting plans for an Inter-American Development Bank, which should answer an old complaint by our southern neighbors. The complaint is that the United States neglected its own hemisphere while aiding other nations generously, that what aid it gave to Latin America was unilaterally controlled and subject to political implications, and that the aid was further restricted by demands for guarantees and repayment in dollars.

For a decade Washington paid little heed to this protest—until Vice President Nixon's tour southward proved that all was not sweetness and light in neighborly relations. At that point the United States reappraised its policy. It has agreed to supply $450,000,000 of the billion-dollar capital for the new bank, but half of the remainder will be in local currencies. The bank will lend to governments or private firms. It will be in full operation in a year, and while its headquarters will be in Washington, the bank will be under international control.

As one Latin American spokesman said, "This is not a Marshall plan, but co-operation." Co-operation should prove a wise investment in the progress of the New World.

The Curb Lane for Busses

The doom of New York and other large cities is written large in the overcrowded streets, says Wilbur I. Smith, president of the Institute of Traffic Engineers and associate director of the Bureau of Highway Traffic at Yale University. The demise of public transportation in so many cities backs him up.

An Associated Press survey shows that 13 urban transit companies went out of business last year. The latest demise came last month at Evansville, Ind. The survey also reveals that in many instances where bus companies are holding their own they enjoy the privilege of an exclusive lane, generally the curb lane.

In Atlanta, for example, a city survey showed that on streets where busses had the curb lane the bus speed picked up 26 per cent and automobile speeds gained 67 per cent. In Washington, where busses have no special lanes, rush hour traffic moves at eight miles an hour. Horse and buggy traffic moved at a faster speed.

The congestion in St. Louis is not as bad as in Washington and a few other cities, but it is headed that way. The Public Service Co. has long sought a curb lane as a major step in speeding up its service.

Why won't the Board of Aldermen and the City Traffic Engineer give the plan a trial?

Jigsaw Puzzle on Wheels

It is interesting to learn that the British have checked in to the International Automobile Show at New York with a do-it-yourself car. But it will be far more interesting to see what happens when the car goes on the market in a few weeks and buyers start assembling it. After all, it's been some time since the jigsaw puzzle craze.

The ready-to-go Nobel 200 will sell for $998 but the SKD (semi-knocked-down) Nobel 200, in a 672-pound box with tool kit for assembling, will sell for only $885. Everything is there, every nut, bolt and screw and detailed plans for assembly. Put together—correctly, that is—it will be 10 and a half feet long, four and a half high and should travel at 60 miles an hour.

The chap who has difficulty assembling a knocked-down wheelbarrow, birdhouse or child's tricycle probably should eschew the auto-in-a-box. But there should be smug satisfaction ahead for the professional handyman who is always in search of new fields to conquer.

"SHALL I TURN UP THE NEWS BROADCAST A LITTLE?"

How Local Is Local Government?

Former St. Louis County Official Says Master Plan Should Not Lose Contact With 'Grass Roots'

From an Address by
Herbert R. Domke, M.D.,
Director, Alleghany County (Pa.)
Health Department

The rapid growth of America's population has become a major factor in public health planning, particularly in metropolitan areas. On the average, a metropolitan area has more than 90 government units.

Everywhere in the United States there is increased effort and action to reorganize in metropolitan areas. Granted, as is frequently stated, that communicable diseases do not respect municipal boundary lines. Is there not, however, over-emphasis on the master plan — and correspondingly too little recognition given to the important "grass roots" government unit—the city or the township and the neighborhood?

The Mirror of Public Opinion

The soundest public health program is based on citizen initiative, support and participation. But when reorganizing local health organizations the tendency is to assign responsibility to the larger jurisdiction.

To illustrate this question, excerpts are taken from recent speeches by three leading national figures. Mr. James W. Rouse, National Chairman of Action Housing, in a recent address stated that in our cities "tens of thousands of our families live in slums. We have created modern urban jungles. Here, the most advanced civilization in the history of man at the peak of its economic prosperity has not yet been able to find the way to make the city a fit place for its people. If we view our cities objectively and honestly, we see them completely out of scale with the human being—with a man, his wife and family."

Apparently in contrast are the comments of Mr. Elliott Lee Richardson, Assistant Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare:

"The health problems that confront us do not exist in a single neighborhood, one city, or separate governmental unit . . . (But) each local jurisdiction within a metropolitan area wants self-identification. Local pride and interest tend to inhibit the development of public policy. . . . Parochial disputes must some day end. . . . One derives hope from the observation that individual political jurisdictions, whether they recognize it or not, are becoming less influential in the administration of health services."

The following comments of Dr. Leroy Burney, Surgeon General, Public Health Service, are presented to indicate the effects of change in urban living on the individual:

"As cities grow and absorb neighboring rural areas, distances from residential areas to the center of community decision . . . increase. There is a migration of the professional and managerial classes to the suburbs, thus depriving the central city of much of the personal concern of its leadership—for home is where the heart is. In such situations, and not alone in our largest metropolitan areas, but in the burgeoning smaller cities, community functions tend to become concentrated in the hands of a few—often without the knowledge and consent of the community that must support the functions. For this shift toward 'depersonalization' in our society is a deadening influence —not a dynamic change that can be channeled into beneficial action."

If we now have cities which are completely out of scale with the human being, how long, with population explosion, can we remain complacent? There is no intent to imply that our attention can or should be directed only to the specific neighborhood and that the area-wide needs be ignored. Equally well, it is neither likely nor desirable that local political control will be entirely delegated to metropolitan agencies.

Is not the work problem that of obtaining the proper balance of local and the area-wide interests?

In attempting to develop public health organization which will keep pace with population growth, it is important to keep clearly in mind that the ultimate recipient of public health services is the individual in his family in a neighborhood. In local government, programs and organizations should be developed to provide every opportunity for participation and involvement of the local community official and leader.

The Voting Record of the City and County Legislators

This is the first of a series of reports on votes on major legislative issues by members of the Missouri Legislature from St. Louis and St. Louis county. Other key votes will be published as they become available.

House

1. Increase old age benefits, aid to the disabled and general welfare benefits from $60 to $65 a month. Change payment for aid to dependent children to a flat $30 a month for a mother and each child. The state would pay up to $100 a month to bedridden welfare recipients in hospitals or nursing homes. HB-1. Passed 128 to 8, Jan. 20.
2. Permit old age pensioners to live with relatives, regardless of income, at an estimated cost to Missouri of $31,000,000 in the next two years. HB-45. Passed 122 to 14, Jan. 27.
3. Extend the 2 per cent sales or "use" tax to cover items brought into the state for retail sales, including machinery or equipment used in manufacturing or processing. HB-35. Passed 93 to 36, March 11.
4. Repeal the 12-year-old King-Thompson Act which authorizes seizure and operation of a struck public utility by the state. HB-41. Defeated 92 to 50, Feb. 10. (Three bills to amend the King-Thompson Act are pending in the House.)
5. Constitutional amendment to change time of election of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Treasurer and Attorney General from the presidential election year to the off-year election midway through a presidential term. HJR-7. Defeated 55 to 45, March 10.

Senate

1. Earnings tax. Bill would permit St. Louis to raise its one-half of 1 per cent tax up to a full 1 per cent if the voters consented. SB-27. Passed 22 to 10, Feb. 10.
2. Bi-State Development Agency. Bill would permit agency to function by bringing the Missouri law into conformity with the Illinois law thereby making revenue bonds marketable. SB-25. Passed 27 to 0, March 5.
3. State School Aid Formula. Bill would upgrade formula under which state aid is distributed to public school districts in Missouri when funds are available to finance it in full. SB-166. Passed 31-0, March 24.
4. Unemployment Compensation. Raise maximum unemployment compensation benefits from $33 to $38 a week and extends period of payment from 26 weeks to 39 when state joblessness reaches .6 per cent of the "insured" labor force. SB-168. Passed 26-6, March 24.
5. Village of Champ. Bill would repeal section of Missouri's National Defense Co-operation Act in order to permit issuance of $87,000,000 in tax-exempt revenue bonds for construction of a stadium and shopping center in the new village of Champ. SB-178. Passed 26 to 6, March 24.

News of the Churches in the St. Louis Area

ST. MALACHY CHURCH TO BE TORN DOWN

The 100-year-old St. Malachy's Church at Clark and South Ewing avenues will be razed and the parish will be discontinued, Archbishop Joseph E. Ritter announced yesterday.

Virtually all of the area St. Malachy's serves will be devoted to industrial use under the Mill Creek redevelopment project, eliminating the need for the parish, Archbishop Ritter explained. Ninety per cent of the parishioners have already moved out of the area, he added.

The parish facilities, consisting of the church, a rectory, school and convent, will be abandoned in June.

Two of the Jesuit priests assigned to St. Malachy's will leave there next week to take over St. Mattnew's parish in north St. Louis, and the other two will leave when the school closes.

The Rev. Frederick L. Zimmerman, S.J., administrator of the parish, said only about 16 Catholic families remain. School enrollment has dropped from 300 to 100 and most of those are children no longer living in the parish, he said.

Stations, pews and altars from the church will be salvaged for use in other churches in the archdiocese, Father Zimmerman said. Demolition of the structures will probably begin sometime this summer, he added.

The church is at 2900 Clark, the rectory at 2904, the school at 2914 and the convent at 2929. The convent probably will be abandoned before June, but the nuns will continue to operate the school until the end of May, Father Zimmerman said.

Elimination of St. Malachy's will reduce the number of parishes in the city to 79.

Establishment of four new parishes in St. Louis county was also announced yesterday by Archbishop Ritter. Two will be in the southern part of the county and two in the northern.

St. Simon Church will be built on Mueller road, north of Lindbergh boulevard, in Concord Village. St. Mathias Church will be on Will avenue at Buckley road in Mehlville.

St. Bartholomew church will be located on Latty avenue, near Graham road, Florissant, and our Lady of Loretto church will be on Redmond avenue west of Bellefontaine road, near Spanish Lake.

MRS. LOUIS LEE RENFROW, MOTHER OF GENERAL, DIES

Mrs. Louis Lee Renfrow, mother of Brig. Gen. Louis H. Renfrow, former deputy director of the Selective Service System, died today of infirmities at a nursing home in Hillsboro, Mo. She was 85 years old.

Mrs. Renfrow formerly lived in Eureka. Her husband, who died last Feb. 14, had been chief engineer for the Marine Service Corps of Engineers here until he retired in 1934.

Earlier, Mrs. Renfrow had been active in the South Side Study Council and a member of the boards of the Big Sister Organization and Catherine Springer Home. Surviving is her son.

FINE JOINT RECITAL AT WEDNESDAY CLUB

By MANUS SASONKIN

The Wednesday Club was the scene of diverse musical activities last night as tenor Leslie Chabay, supported at the piano by Elizabeth Gentry Coleman, and pianist William Schatzkamer presented a joint recital. The atmosphere was relaxed and informal; the program consisted largely of familiar items. And although nothing of historic import seemed to be accomplished — no heights were scaled, no emotional depths were plumbed — the evening was, in its unobtrusive fashion, a eminently satisfying one.

Schatzkamer led off with a transcription of Bach's so-called Little Fugue in G Minor (originally for organ), Chopin's early B Flat Major Nocturne and the Sixth Hungarian Rhapsody of Liszt, all of which he played neatly, precisely, and with a certain detachment of spirit.

Later, following the intermission, he returned with Gershwin's Three Preludes, two preludes of Debussy and the Ritual Fire Dance from De Falla's El Amor Brujo. To the Gershwin, Schatzkamer brought an appropriate verve and elan; and he imbued the first of the Debussy preludes ("Fireworks") with a sensitively iridescent sheen.

Chabay's portion of the evening was slightly more adventuresome, including three Moussorgsky songs, three Schubert songs, and folk songs from Hungary, Italy, Austria and the United States. Chabay seemed equally at ease in every phase of his program, and he shifted styles with the casualness of automatic transmission.

Particularly striking was his characterization of "The Seminarist," a Moussorgsky song of high humor, anticipating in its craggy lines and frequent meter changes the Twentieth Century concept of the art song. And it would be difficult to resist the ascetic and wholly deceptive simplicity of the same composer's "Revery of a Young Peasant." Chabay's realization was acute and sensitive in the extreme.

MODEL ASSEMBLY ELECTS KIRKWOOD YOUTH GOVERNOR

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 11 — Larry White, a senior of Kirkwood High School, was elected governor of the state Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y model general assembly meeting here yesterday. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. White, 423 Gill avenue, Kirkwood.

White, vice president of his class at Kirkwood High, defeated Gerald Rose of North Kansas City. Numerous bills were offered in each house of the model general assembly. They included proposals to forbid billboards along highways, a state right to work law and a measure to raise the minimum age for drivers to 18.

MRS. THEODORE BAUR DIES, FUNERAL MONDAY

Mrs. Theodore Baur, wife of a minister at Immanuel Evangelical and Reformed Church in Ferguson, died of uremic poisoning at Deaconess Hospital yesterday. She was 71 years old.

Mrs. Baur was born at Fulton, Mo., and came to St. Louis with her husband in 1950. She lived at 2 Jean drive, Florissant. She is survived by her husband.

Funeral services will be at 10 a.m. Monday at Immanuel Church, with burial at Fulton.

CONSECRATION OF BISHOP THURSDAY

By JOHN T. STEWART
Church Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Presiding Bishop Arthur C. Lichtenberger of the Protestant Episcopal Church will return to St. Louis Thursday to consecrate his successor as Bishop of the Diocese of Missouri—the Rev. Dr. George Leslie Cadigan of Rochester, N.Y.

The ceremony of consecration will be held at Christ Church Cathedral, beginning at 10:30 a.m. It will be telecast by the Post-Dispatch station KSD-TV.

The Rev. Dr. Cadigan will be consecrated bishop coadjutor. He will become bishop May 15, when Bishop Lichtenberger's resignation as Bishop of Missouri will take effect. The Rev. Dr. Cadigan was elected bishop coadjutor last December.

Seven bishops will assist the presiding bishop in the consecration services. Co-consecrators will be Bishop Dudley S. Stark of Rochester, and Bishop Robert R. Brown of Little Rock, Ark.

The bishop-elect will be presented for consecration by Bishop Andrew Y. Y. Tsu, retired missionary bishop of Kunming, China, and Bishop Charles F. Hall of New Hampshire.

Bishop Thomas H. Wright of the East Carolina diocese will read the epistle, and Bishop Roger W. Blanchard, bishop coadjutor of Southern Ohio, will read the gospel.

Bishop Edward Randolph Welles of Kansas City, president of the Episcopal Church Province of Southwest, will read one of the testimonials.

The Rev. James H. Clark, rector of Church of the Ascension, St. Louis, will be master of ceremonies.

The sermon will be preached by the Rev. Dr. Frederick H. Arterton, assistant warden of College of Preachers, Washington, D. C. The litany will be read by the Rev. Alanson Higbie, rector of Church of the Advent, Cincinnati, Ohio.

About 200 persons, clergy and laity, will march in the procession that will open the service. Immediately after the processional, Presiding Bishop Lichtenberger will begin the service of Holy Communion, in which the ceremony of consecrating a bishop is set.

Bishop Lichtenberger was consecrated bishop coadjutor of Missouri at Christ Church Cathedral April 6, 1951; he was elected presiding Bishop last Oct. 11. Bishop William Scarlett, retired, was consecrated bishop coadjutor of Missouri May 6, 1930.

The Missouri diocese includes 54 churches and missions in St. Louis, St. Louis county, and a tier of other counties in eastern Missouri; it extends as far west as Jefferson City and Columbia.

CHURCH WORLD SERVICE TO AID TIBET REFUGEES

Church World Service announced a nation-wide appeal this week for funds to aid the destitute refugees from Tibet thronging into India and neighboring states. The agency has already sent $10,000 in cash to a joint Christian-Buddhist relief committee in Darjeeling to purchase supplies.

Food, clothing and medicines have also been released from C.W.S. stockpiles in India.

Thirty-five Protestant and Eastern Orthodox denominations co-operate in the global relief work of the agency, whose headquarters is at 215 Fourth avenue, New York City.

Lutherans Expand Schools.

Approximately $2,000,000 worth of construction on the campuses of several schools owned and operated by the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod was authorized at a recent meeting of the church's board of directors.

FEDERATION MARKS 50TH ANNIVERSARY

The Metropolitan Church Federation, which originated in a conversation among four St. Louis churchmen returning by train from New York City, will celebrate its fiftieth anniversary today. It is the second oldest church council in the United States.

The federation now represents more than 600 Protestant and Eastern Orthodox churches. Headquarters are on the fourth floor of the Y.M.C.A. Building, 1528 Locust street.

More than 2000 persons have reservations for the anniversary dinner, which will be given at the Scottish Rite Cathedral, 3637 Lindell boulevard, at 6 p.m. The principal address will be given by the Rev. Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg, president of the National Council of Churches and pastor of Delmar Baptist Church; he is a former president of the church federation.

Attorney General John M. Dalton of Jefferson City will bring greetings from the state, and Mayor Raymond R. Tucker for the City of St. Louis. Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, retired bishop of the Methodist Church, will speak for the World Council of Churches, the National Council, and the Missouri Council of Churches; he also is a former president of the church federation.

Other speakers will include George T. Guernsey III and the Rev. Leon R. Robison, president of the federation.

A concert of sacred music will be presented by the speech choir of Calvary United Church of Christ, members of the Delmar Baptist Church choir, the rhythmic choir of Church of the Open Door, and Jean Border, soloist.

Founders of the church federation were Bishop Daniel S. Tuttle of the Episcopal Church Diocese of Missouri; the Rev. Dr. Samuel J. Niccolls, pastor of Second Presbyterian Church; the Rev. Dr. William C. Bitting, pastor of Second Baptist Church, and George Warren Brown, a Methodist layman. They were returning from a meeting of the old Federal Council of Churches, held in New York, when they decided to establish a federation of churches in St. Louis. Bishop Tuttle was the first president of the federation, 1909-1912.

CATHOLIC SEES LITTLE HOPE OF CHURCH REUNION

There is little chance that the "churches separated from Rome can easily be united to the See of Peter," according to the Rev. George Tavard, writing in the April issue of Jubilee, Roman Catholic magazine of New York.

Father Tavard, an expert on ecumenical affairs, is not optimistic about any easy solution to the problems dividing the Catholic Church and the rest of Christendom.

Discussing Pope John's announcement of his intentions of calling an Ecumenical Council, Father Tavard comments that "the hope of immediate reunion for those churches separated from Rome by erroneous doctrine is foolish."

"We can dismiss as fantastic the idea that Protestant leaders would be invited to join in the discussion of the council," he states.

The Orthodox Churches are basically separated from Rome by schism only, and real steps toward reunion can be taken here, Father Tavard writes. The Greek and the Russian Churches, the most important of the Orthodox ones, could not "in conscience reunite with Rome at the cost of breaking communion with some of their sister churches," he adds.

CLOTHING DRIVE TO BE HELD

A drive for clothing and nonperishable foods for needy mission areas in Missouri will be conducted Thursday through Sunday, April 19, throughout the St. Louis Archdiocese. The collection will be made by the Archdiocesan Union of the Holy Name Society, in co-operation with the Council of Catholic Men.

All items of clothing, including women's, but particularly children's and men's wear, shoes, hats, and canned or dried foodstuffs are needed; also useful household items, linens, rugs and other items.

10 Hits by Birds; Schmidt, Kirkland Blast Home Runs

By Neal Russo

Whether the Cardinals suffer the 60-odd defeats of a contender or the 90-plus of a tailender, few will be more exasperating than the one which initiated Solly Hemus into the fraternity of tears, anguish and heartaches—the circle of big league baseball managers.

After the end came at 10:50 last night, the unhappy new pilot, taking his time dressing in his clubhouse office, could look back on mistakes that should have been eliminated in Florida. Instead, they figured in a 6-5 loss to San Francisco in the National League opener at Busch Stadium.

Hemus's immediate predecessors, Fred Hutchinson and Eddie Stanky, broke in with smiles and victories as Redbird managers. They didn't have to moan as Solly did about faulty baserunning, failure to hit behind the runner, light contribution by the team's so-called power men, a bullpen disappointment and pinch-hitting failure. They were kings for a day.

'Middle' Men Deliver.

Yet there was some consolation for Hemus and the 20,988 customers who stuck it out at the seesaw game in 43-degree weather. The five runs represented the Cardinals' most robust performance since March 26, with eight of the 10 hits coming from the men "down the middle." Shortstop Alex Grammas and Second Baseman Don Blasingame each doubled once and singled twice and Centerfielder Gino Cimoli doubled and singled. The three also drove in four of the five runs, newcomer Bill White accounting for the other with a third-inning single.

Hemus, who will send rookie Ernie Broglio against former Cardinal Sam Jones tonight at 8 o'clock, and Catcher Hal Smith praised the pitching of Larry Jackson in his first opener start.

"Larry had his sinker and slider working fine," said Smith. "He did a good job on Willie Mays, pitching him away." The Giants' star outfielder went hitless in four tries.

Jackson, victim of two of several vexing Cardinal losses at San Francisco last season, was hurt twice by two-out run-scoring singles and by St. Louisan Bob Schmidt's first home run against the Cardinals. Even so, Jackson was leading by 4-3 when he left for a pinch-hitter in the seventh.

Kirkland Also Homers.

Jim Brosnan, brilliant in relief all last season, failed to hold the Coast team in the eighth and ninth innings, with the key blows being Willie Kirkland's home run, Andre Rodgers's triple and Jackie Brandt's final tie-breaking double.

Schmidt, husky former Ritenour High athlete who said all he got for signing with Scout Bob Martin were "spikes, a mitt and a train ticket," set up the game's first run with a double in the third inning. An infield out and Jim Davenport's single sent Schmidt home.

After wasting a big chance in the first inning when Blasingame opened with a double and Cimoli walked, but Ken Boyer grounded into a double play, the Redbirds scored twice in the third on four successive singles. Jackson, Blasingame, Cimoli and White all delivered. However, with none out and a 3-2 count on Boyer, Cimoli was picked off second base when he easily could have returned, and the rally was over.

It was 2-2 in the fourth after Orlando Cepeda doubled and Daryl Spencer singled. San Francisco again went in front in the seventh when Schmidt connected with a fast one on a 3-2 count and drove the ball into the left-center bleachers.

In the home seventh Grammas surprised with a hard double to right-center off tiring Johnny Antonelli. Pinch-hitter Ray Jablonski couldn't advance the runner but Blasingame drove him in with an opposite-field single. On the hit and run, Cimoli pulled a double down the left-field line to put the Birds in front, 4-3. Then White and Boyer failed.

Kirkland quickly re-tied the score by reaching the pavilion roof on a first pitch by Brosnan in the eighth. Spencer went all the way to third on a single because the ball went through Cimoli's legs and Rodgers followed with a triple that made the seesaw read: Giants 5, Cardinals 4.

Birds Tie Score Again.

In the home eighth, the Redbirds finally got a break to tie again. After Musial, who was hitless in three official at-bats, drew a leadoff walk, Gary Blaylock ran for The Man. The rookie hurler quickly was picked off first but belatedly slid under Rodgers, covering second, and the shortstop drew an error. With two out and Blaylock on third, Grammas singled to make it 5-5.

Pinch - hitter Bob Speake walked to open the ninth. With one out, former Cardinal Brandt bunted foul when he had no bunt sign and was prepared to try a second bunt before he caught on that there was no such sign. Thus reprieved, Brandt, who went to the Giants in the Red Schoendienst deal, pounded a run-scoring double.

Against Al Worthington in the ninth, Blasingame walked and took second on Cimoli's sacrifice. However, White struck out for the second time. Then Boyer reached first and Blasingame took third when Ken's grounder was bobbled by Rodgers. The best Gene Green could do was tap to Worthington for the final out, completing a rough first night as manager for Mighty Mouse Hemus.

The way things went for Solly last night, he'll need more than that lucky No. 7 on his back to crash the first division.

Redbird Notes

Lt. Gov. Edward Long refused to join Mayor Raymond Tucker in throwing out the first ball until Cardinal President August Busch signed him to a contract. Busch accommodated him with a contract for $1.

Because the home plate area was soggy, the Cardinal players were not driven onto the field in cars for the pre-game ceremonies. Hemus introduced his players.

A group of fans from San Francisco, standing on the Giants' dugout roof, held a sign reading: "San Francisco, 1959 World Champions." . . . The band kept in tune with the weather by playing "Jingle Bells."

Sunday's 1:30 game will end the three-game series. Wilmer Mizell of the Cardinals will oppose lefty Mike McCormick.

Kirkland Wipes Out Redbirds' Lead

Scoring on his eighth-inning home run is WILLIE KIRKLAND of the San Francisco Giants. His homer, one of two hit in the Cardinals' season-opening game at Busch Stadium last night, tied the score at 4-4 and the Giants went ahead before the inning ended. Greeting the slugger is teammate DARYL SPENCER (20) and the batboy. Bob Schmidt, Giants' catcher, hit a seventh-inning homer as the Cards lost, 6-5.

Emerson, Mark Win

MELBOURNE, April 11 (UPI) —Roy Emerson and Bob Mark emerged as Australia's likely Davis Cup doubles pair by winning the national hardcourt championship final. Emerson and Mark beat the brother team of Douglas and Wayne Reid, 6-3, 6-3, 6-4.

Marquette Edges Chaminade, 3 to 2, In Twin No-Hitter

By Harold Tuthill

McKinley Pitcher Charley Pilz belted two doubles in a nine-run inning to pace the Goldbugs to a 10-to-4 victory over Central in yesterday's Public High League baseball competition.

Cleveland and Roosevelt also gained one-sided decisions. Cleveland crushed Vashon, 14-0, as the Wolverines played for the first time this season. The game was called after five innings because of darkness. Tom Stirrat pitched one-hit ball, got a single, double and home run as Roosevelt downed Sumner, 13-0.

Stirrat was robbed of a no-hitter when Anderson James broke the Rough Rider's spell with a two-out single in the first half of the seventh.

No Hits in One Game.

Marquette shaded Chaminade, 3 to 2, in a twin no-hitter. Ed Benecke got a life in the last of the seventh when his grounder hopped off the third baseman's glove for an error which permitted Gary Eichorn to score the winning run for Marquette pitcher Jeff Hendrickson. Villars and Owen hurled for Chaminade. It was a Catholic League game.

In the same circuit St. Francis de Sales and St. John's played to a 2-2, nine-inning tie when the game was called on account of darkness. Rich Auer's home run in the fifth enabled De Sales to tie the score.

Bill Lammers singled home two DuBourg runs in the fifth to break a tie and put the Cavaliers in front where they stayed for a 5-2 Catholic Athletic Conference victory over St. Mary's. It was the third C.A.C. triumph for DuBourg which has five victories and a tie this spring. Winning pitcher Dave Ritchie contributed a bases-empty home run in the second to help his cause.

Webster Groves Wins.

Norm Schwesig was victorious, 2-1, in a pitchers' duel between Webster Groves and Riverview Gardens in Suburban League action. The Statesmen pushed across their winning run off Substitute Pitcher Tockman who relieved Dan Graville in the seventh. Phil Mumma shot a single to center to send home Allen McArtor with the deciding tally.

University City's Tom Mendelson set Ferguson down with three hits in a 10-3 Suburban triumph. Mendelson uncorked a throw which Ferguson pitcher Bob Degeneff, at bat, had to duck, falling to the ground and breaking his glasses. He was unable to continue. At the time University City was ahead, 8 to 3, and the Indians added to their advantage with two more runs in the seventh. Dick Stanfield relieved Degeneff.

In a nonleague engagement, Kirkwood won over Brentwood, 6-0, at Pioneer pitcher Phil Landis yielded one hit, a scratch off the shortstop's glove in the second inning. Ritenour downed St. Louis High, 7-3.

Ladue Seeks Its Third Track Win

Ladue seeks its third successive meet victory in the finals of the twenty-fifth annual Clayton High invitational track championships this afternoon, starting at 2:30.

The Rams have a very good chance to repeat, depending upon what the fleet Mike Bottom does in the finals. He broke the 220-yard mark (22.7) and qualified in the 100 and 440.

Kirkwood's Dave Theriot, pace-setter in both hurdles, also looks like a strong contender for individual honors.

Rosi Gains TKO Win Over Ryff

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 11 (UPI)—Paoli Rosi, a frustrated opera singer from Italy, who now makes his home in New York, punched his way to a third round technical knockout over lightweight Frankie Ryff last night in a nationally-televised bout.

Both fighters spent the first round peppering away at each other with smashing jabs. Neither battler backed away, standing toe to toe exchanging hooks and jabs.

By the middle of the second round, blood started to cover the entire right side of Rosi's face from a slashed right eyebrow. But the Italian-born slugger came out strong for the third round and soon had Ryff in trouble.

Referee Joe Palmer stopped the fight at 2:45 of the third round after Rosi had sent Ryff to the canvas twice for the mandatory eight-count and then bounced him off the ropes with a whirlwind of lefts and rights.

It was the tenth straight victory for the prematurely-bald Rosi, who weighed 135¼ pounds to Ryff's 136. Rosi was an 11-5 favorite.

Ohio Fives Hit 3000 In A.B.C.

Scoring splurges in the final game vaulted a pair of Ohio teams over the coveted 3000 mark to highlight last night's activity at the American Bowling Congress tournament at the 138th Infantry Armory.

Racing the action was a 3062 total fired by the Doraty Motors of Cleveland, while the Driggs Dairy team of Toledo finished with a 3030 total.

This brought the total of teams going over 3000 in this year's A.B.C. tournament to 20, just one less than last year at Syracuse. The record is 31 set at Fort Worth, Texas two years ago.

The Driggs team came up with a fine 1087 game to wind up its action following 969 and 974 games. Doraty Motors closed with a 1086 after a 1034-942 start.

The lead-off man for each team took individual scoring honors. Eddie Lehotsky, for Doraty, finished with 688 after a 278 start. John Jacobs, who was No. 1 man in the Driggs lineup, scored 658 on games of 212-221-225.

It was the second straight night for two teams to go over 3000.

There were no changes in any of the standings.

Fetchick Retains GolfLead

GREENSBORO, N. C., April 11 (AP)—Mike Fetchick slipped a stroke off his opening round with a second day 67, but it was good enough to add two strokes to his lead going into today's third round of the $15,000 Greater Greensboro Open golf tournament.

The 36-year-old Yonkers, N.Y., pro had a 133 total at the halfway mark, nine under par.

Sharing second place at 136, three shots away, were three dangerous challengers.

The group includes Art Wall of Poscono Manor, Pa., new Masters champion and the top money winner of the year; Stan Leonard of Vancouver, British Columbia, who tied for fourth in the Masters and won here two years ago, and Dow Finisterwald of Tequesta, Fla., the PGA titleholder.

They were only one stroke ahead of three of the hottest shooters in the second round, who tied for seventh place at 139, six shots back of Fetchick. The trio was made up of Dick Knight of San Diego, Cal.; Thorne Wood, who is a left-hander and Carolinas PGA champion, each shot 66, the day's best score. Thomas closed with a five-under-par 31 for 70.

Bowling Trials at Two Lanes

By John J. Archibald
Of the Post-Dispatch Staff

PEORIA, Ill., April 11—There will be an extra element of uncertainty about the way things are going in the qualifying for the National doubles match game bowling tournament today and tomorrow. Because half of the 140 two-man teams will be shooting on the older Auto Parts Lanes, while the others are competing several miles away at the modern Crossroads Lanes, the first day standings may not give an accurate indication of how the bowlers performed.

There will be no unfairness, because by midnight Sunday each of the teams will have bowled 24 games (12 a man) at each place.

Thirteen teams were registered from the Greater St. Louis area, plus one other Mound City tenpinner, Whitey Harris, who was paired with Frank Esposito of Paramus, N.J.

The defending champions are Don Carter and Tom Hennessey of the St. Louis Budweisers.

The eight teams with the highest pinfall after Sunday night will compete in a round-robin of match play Monday and Tuesday.

Action in which St. Louis area bowlers participated this morning resulted in these scores:

Ray Bluth 1291, Dick Weber 1270—2561; Chuck O'Donnell 1146, Woody Hulsey 1179—2325; Jerry Tharp 1178, Bill Courtwright 1070—2248; Whitey Harris 1115, Frank Esposita, Paramus, N.J., 1131—2246; Ray Orf 1147, Dennis Chapis 1058—2205; Harvey Barnhill 1183, Claude Sears, East St. Louis, 1119—2302.

Calumet's On-and-On Wins at Lexington

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 11 (UPI) — On-And-On, Calumet Farm's lightly rated Kentucky Derby hopeful, scored a one and a half length victory in the Jonabell Purse, a $3250 allowance race.

On-And-On was lagging coming into the stretch of the six-furlong dash, and Jockey Steve Brooks had to go to the whip to get the Calumet colt home ahead of the unimposing field.

Iolonel Chill was second and John Bruce, also a Derby nominee, third. The time on an off track at Keeneland was 1:11 1-5.

Missouri Shuts Out Kansas St.

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

COLUMBIA, Mo., April 11—Don Miller, Overland junior, turned in a two-hit pitching performance and batted in a run to send the Missouri Tigers off to a good start in defense of their Big Eight baseball championship here yesterday. The Tigers defeated Kansas State, 3 to 0.

Miller issued one walk and struck out six and had flawless support afield. The lefthander, ineligible last year, kept well ahead of the Wildcat batters.

Ralph Hochgrebe, Tiger shortstop from St. Louis Lutheran High School, was the batting star. He had half of the six Missouri hits and scored the first run in the sixth. He was aided by a single by John Scowcroft, outfielder from St. Louis Cleveland, and a miscue on a drive by Roger Brodbeck, catcher from St. Louis Hancock.

In the eighth, Missouri added two runs on a walk and steal by Scowcroft, a double by Brodbeck, and a single by the Tiger hurler.

The teams play a double-header here this afternoon.

Billikens Beaten by Ark. State

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JONESBORO, Ark., April 11—Fireballing A. L. Gatewood hurled the Arkansas State Indians to a 7-2 victory over St. Louis University at Kell Field here yesterday, striking out 15 Billiken hitters.

He gave up six hits, but three were tainted. It was the lanky righthander's third victory of the year. Besides fanning 15, Gatewood made one putout and handled four assists.

St. Louis jumped to an early 2-0 lead when Joe Mowry was safe on an error and then Bill Harless and John Jones doubled. That was all though, for the Bills.

State tied the score in the fourth on a walk, a hit by Bill Caldwell and a double by Sonny Goodman. The Redmen went ahead 3-2 in the fifth on a walk, a single, a hit batsman and sacrifice fly. Two more runs came in the seventh on hits by Bo Moore, Jim Bowlin and Caldwell. Bowlin's was a double. The Indians tacked on two additional runs in the eighth with Jerry Sinko doubling home both tallies.

The victory was No. 5 for Arkansas State and keeps the Tribe's record against St. Louis teams clean. They defeated Washington University twice here earlier this spring.

Spahn, Roberts, Fox Steal Show

'Old Pros' Star as New Season Starts

PITTSBURGH, April 11 (UPI)—There's no pro like an old pro when it comes to launching a new season. They say it over and over again while the rookies are dominating the headlines in the spring but the words never rang truer than yesterday when Warren Spahn, Robin Roberts and Nelson Fox showed the young 'uns how it's done in the big leagues.

Spahn, Roberts and Fox, whose combined careers add up to a total of 36 years of major league experience, seized the opening day headlines as the Milwaukee Braves, Philadelphia Phillies and Chicago White Sox got off to winning starts.

Spahn, the brilliant 37-year-old southpaw from Buffalo, N. Y., who has recorded nine 20-victory seasons, cooled off the ambitious Pittsburgh Pirates with a seven-hitter as he pitched the Braves to an 8-0 victory; Roberts, starting his tenth straight opener, pitched a five-hitter to give the Phillies a 2-1 decision over the Cincinnat Reds, and Fox, who didn't hit a homer all last season, blasted one in the fourteenth inning to provide the White Sox with a 7-5 win over the Detroit Tigers.

The Cleveland Indians defeated the Kansas City Athletics, 6-4, and the San Francisco Giants beat the Cardinals, 6-5, in the other openers. Boston at New York in the American League was rained out and Los Angeles at Chicago in the National was snowed out.

Bad Weather, Fair Crowds.

Despite poor weather, a reasonably healthy total of 137,456 fans turned out for the five openers.

The average of 27,400 per game was about 5000 fewer than the average for the 1958 openers when all eight games were played.

The best crowd yesterday was at Detroit where 38,332 braved 37-degree temperature. Other crowds were 33,317 at Pittsburgh, 22,630 at Kansas City, 22,189 at Philadelphia and 20,988 at St. Louis.

All that talk about the Braves needing a second baseman was pretty much forgotten as the National League champs parlayed their two long suits—pitching and power—into an easy victory. Spahn, who struck out six and walked only two in scoring the forty-fourth shutout of his career, delivered a two-run single himself. Ed Mathews blasted a two-run homer and Bill Bruton and Hank Aaron had three hits each in Milwaukee's 13-hit attack. It was the second straight loss for the Pirates, who have made only 13 hits in two games.

Roberts, most honored opening-day pitcher since Walter Johnson, carried a two-hit shutout into the ninth inning and then pitched his way out of trouble when the Reds had the tying and winning runs on base and Jerry Lynch batting. Roberts, who struck out two and walked one, doubled home the Phillies' first run in the sixth inning and got the delivered Chico Fernandez. Roberts and Don Newcombe each pitched no-hit ball for the first five innings.

One Short of Record.

Fox, the White's Sox' little tobacco-chewing second-baseman, blasted his two-run homer off Don Mossi to break up a marathon that fell only one inning short of the A. L. record for an opening day game. It was Fox's fifth hit in a four-hour and 25-minute struggle during which a total of 11 pitchers saw action and there were 31 hits, including homers by Jim Landis, Al Kaline and Charley Maxwell in addition to Fox's game-winning clout. Maxwell's homer, a three-run pinch job in the eighth, was the blow that sent the game into overtime. Gerry Staley was the winner and Mossi the loser.

Gary Bell gained credit for the Indians' victory although he needed help when the Athletics rallied in the ninth. Herb Score, question-mark fireballer failed in relief but Dick Brodowsky finally retired the A's. George Strickland paced the Indians with three hits and Rocky Colavito blasted a double while Bob Cerv had a triple and Hector Lopez a homer for Kansas City. Score faced three batters—walking two and running up a 2-0 count on the third before he was relieved.

Remember?

5...15...25 Years Ago

1954 — Stealing five bases in a five-run third inning, the Cardinals routed the Baltimore Orioles, 8-3, in their spring series opener at Busch Stadium. . . . Dutch Harrison was named golf pro at Old Warson Country Club.

1944—Three St. Louisans advanced to the semifinals of the National A.A.U. boxing tournament at Boston. They were: Nick Sanders, 118 pounds; Curtis Filer, 160, and Curtis Smith, 135.

1934 — Kansas City gained its third hockey playoff title in four years by beating the Flyers, 3-1, at The Arena.

Dan Fizer's Grandslam Nips Harris

A grandslam home run by Dan Fizer in the first inning was all the punch McKendree College needed to win at home from Harris Teachers, 4-3, in a non-league baseball game yesterday.

The blow came off Pitcher John Checkett. Wayne King was the winner for McKendree, now 5-1 for the season and due to play Washington University at Heman Park this afternoon.

Harris now is 1-2 for the young campaign.

Survives Without Lunch.

HILO, Hawaii, April 11 (AP) — Peter Iaukea was fishing from an outrigger canoe when a storm smashed the boat. He donned a life preserver and grabbed his lunch bag, reaching safety but without his lunch. "A shark came up and grabbed the lunch bag right out of my hand," he said.

RADLOFF INSURANCE SUITS TRANSFERRED TO U.S. COURT

Two suits seeking double indemnity from the Franklin Life Insurance Co., on two policies issued to Paul Radloff, who was found dead in his automobile in Forest Park last Jan. 9, were transfered today from circuit court to United States District Court here.

Radloff's widow, Mrs. Esther Radloff, 12 Fairwinds court, Olivette, filed the suits, contending her husband's death was accidental. They were transferred to the federal court because the insurance company's headquarters is not within the circuit court's jurisdiction.

Mrs. Radloff's petition said both policies, one for $50,000 and the other for $15,000, contained double indemnity clauses. The company has paid single indemnity. Radloff, who was under indictment for income tax evasion, was found dead in his automobile. There was a bullet wound in his head and a .38 caliber revolver in his right hand.

FALLOUT-SMOKING CANCER TIE HINTED

Three Washington University scientists suggested today the possibility that cigarettes and nuclear bomb fallout, in combination, add up to an increased lung cancer hazard for human beings.

A report was presented to the fiftieth annual meeting of the American Association for Cancer Research at Atlantic City, N.J., by Dr. Edmund V. Cowdry, professor emeritus of anatomy, and two associates.

Dr. Cowdry, Dr. Valentina Suntzeff, research associate in cancer, and Miss Adele B. Croninger, research assistant, said experiments with mice indicated that cigarette tar and fallout radiation produce a "synergistic" effect.

That is, the research with mice pointed to a conclusion that cigarette tar and fallout radiation can produce more damage to tissue in combination than might be expected from the sum of what the two could do individually.

Making a preliminary report, the three scientists said skin cancers were caused in mice by a combination of cigarette tar and radiation from strontium-90. Radioactive strontium is an ingredient of fallout.

Earlier experiments at Washington University produced skin cancer in mice from cigarette tar alone. That research helped touch off a still unsettled medical controversy as to whether cigarettes cause lung cancer.

In their report today, the St. Louisans described experiments in which nicotine-free cigarette tar was dissolved in acetone and painted on the shaved backs of mice three times weekly. At the same site, strontium-90 radiation was applied directly to the skin.

Four hundred mice were used in the experiments. The cigarette tar was obtained from a "smoking machine" that simulates on a large scale what happens when a person smokes a cigarette, and collects the residue.

The mice, it was reported, were divided into six groups. Those that got radiation and cigarette tar in combination had a 54 per cent incidence of skin cancer in 18 months. Those receiving tar alone had a 37 per cent incidence, and those getting radiation only, 5 per cent or less.

RISE IN PARALYTIC POLIO

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—There were 3206 paralytic polio cases in the year ended March 28, compared with 2005 in 1957-58.

Reporting this yesterday, the Public Health Service said paralytic cases normally number about 10 per cent of the total polio cases. The total number of cases increased from 5587 in 1957-58 to 6110 in 1958-59.

forces in a zone in central Europe, to be accompanied by an air-tight inspection system.

3. Measures for increasing technical contacts between East and West Germany.

Russian Rejection Likely.

It was generally agreed in the Washington talks that the Soviet Union, which is demanding that West Berlin be made a "free city," would either reject these proposals or insist upon giving priorities to other subjects, such as a German peace treaty.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd took the lead in insisting that in such an event the West should be willing to talk about any part of its program that the Soviet Union was willing to discuss. Under his new instructions, Brentano maintained that at that point the West should refuse to take part in further negotiations unless the Soviet Union agreed to assume its responsibility, as one of the Big Four occupying powers, for the eventual unification of Germany.

Brentano insisted that the Soviet Union must also commit itself to free elections at some stage in the unification of Germany. He also said West Germany would not agree to a discussion of any form of arms limitation except on two understandings: It should not be directed at any specific weapon, nor should it be aimed at any specific central European country.

Eyes on Rapacki Plan.

In making these conditions, Brentano was attacking any discussion of a proposal similar to the Rapacki plan, which would deny nuclear weapons to West Germany, East Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Although the West does not know how much emphasis the Soviets will give the Rapacki plan at Geneva, they are drawing up proposals for some sort of limitation as an alternative to it.

In doing so, they are avoiding the word "disengagement," to which Adenauer is bitterly opposed. One participant in the Washington discussions, who supports Adenauer's strong position, is convinced that the British really favor disengagement and would have proposed it to the other western governments but for West Germany's strong opposition.

According to reliable sources, the Washington discussion showed that the Western powers agree on the especial desirability of a dependable inspection system. They hope that if one can be set up it would pave the way for more meaningful disarmament measures.

Considerable attention was devoted as a result to a new idea in inspection—the establishment of Western-manned radar systems in the Soviet bloc, to be matched by Soviet-manned radar systems in Western European countries.

Norstad's Idea.

This idea, along the lines of President Eisenhower's 1955 proposals for mutual aerial inspection against a surprise attack, was originated by Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme allied commander for Europe of NATO.

It has already been studied by experts of the Big Three and West Germany and will be further considered during their London meetings to determine whether it should be included in proposals at Geneva.

According to several sources, Canada's suggestion in Washington that the U.N. establish a "presence" along the lines of communication between West Germany and West Berlin was received favorably by the same countries that supported the British position on negotiations at Geneva.

On the other hand countries supporting the West German conditions for negotiation with the Soviet Union were decidedly cool to the Canadian suggestions.

The small NATO countries, who insisted that they must be informed in advance of the detailed positions that the Big Three will take on issues that might result in nuclear war, got this assurance in Washington.

Ghana-Soviet Ties

ACCRA, April 11 (UPI) — The government of Ghana announced today that it had agreed to exchange ambassadors with the Soviet Union.

CLAIMS FOR JOBLESS AID AT WEEKLY LOW FOR YEAR

Continued claims for unemployment payments dropped to a new weekly low for the year in St. Louis and St. Louis county, Charles G. DeLargy, St. Louis manager for the Missouri Division of Employment Security, reported yesterday. New claims rose slightly in the week ending yesterday.

Continued claims were down to 12,289, a decrease of 763 since last week and about half the number in the comparable week last year. Initial claims rose by 59 during the week to 2458, compared with 3661 at this time last year.

6 LOW-PRICED STOCKS FOR A FAST MOVE!

Our analysts studied over 500 low-priced stocks before they selected these six for recommendations to our investment service subscribers. These all meet the rigid requirements we have established as a speculative investment with both fast and great profit possibilities. We should like to send you our report on them, with current earnings, recent prices, dividends, etc., by return mail.

One is a famous radio-TV network that has recently closed some remarkable contracts, and even now yields nearly 5%, with regular dividends.

Another is a little known chain of stores that is going great guns, with present dividend a yield of nearly 6%.

Still another is a promising Airline in which shares are available at around $8.

All This Is Yours for Only $1!

This list of all 6 Low-Priced Stocks sent to you, with appropriate revelations, at NO EXTRA COST, along with a 30-Day Trial Subscription to the Weekly Dow Theory Forecasts, which regularly supplies you with such vital investment information as:

(1) THE DOW THEORY MASTER LIST OF STOCKS (A "Blue Book" of best buys)
(2) THE STOCK SERVICE DIGEST (A consensus of what 14 other leading investment services are recommending)
(3) SPECIAL GROWTH STOCKS (Stocks that have special "growth" possibilities)
(4) BEST BUYS AMONG LOW PRICED STOCKS (A list of 20 stocks ranging from a dollar up that we think offer real growth and profit possibilities)
(5) STOCK SWITCH RECOMMENDATIONS (When to get out of stocks bought previously)
(6) CURRENT BUSINESS OUTLOOK

Continued Cool

—Associated Press Wirephoto.
Low temperatures and areas of precipitation expected tonight.

Cool weather continued in the St. Louis area today, and little change is expected tomorrow. Skies will be cloudy tomorrow and Monday with somewhat higher temperatures the first of the week, the Weather Bureau said.

Freezing weather prevailed this morning over a large portion of Missouri and Illinois. Ground fog and reduced visibility were reported in many places in the two-state area.

Cold spring weather gripped the nation's middle section today with snow in the central Rockies, parts of the Plains states and upper Mississippi valley. Widespread rain fell in the eastern third of the county, but skies were mostly fair west of the Rockies.

Heaviest snowfall in the 24 hours ended early today was four inches at Redwood Falls, Minn., where tornadoes had been sighted yesterday afternoon.

Rain was forecast for tomorrow in the northeast Gulf coast and South Atlantic states with snow in the Great Lakes region and upper Mississippi valley, as indicated by the above map. The Weather Bureau said it will be cooler in the northeast and Gulf coast states, and a warming trend is expected over the northern Plateau and northern Plains.

Minimum temperatures in Missouri this morning ranged from 28 at Columbia to 40 at Malden. Lowest in the nation was 3 at Big Piney, Wyo. Yesterday's high was 93 at Thermal, Calif.

Degrees days in the St. Louis area yesterday, 20; the month, 105; the season, 4513.

STOCKHOLDER'S MEETING 285

UNION ELECTRIC COMPANY
NOTICE OF ANNUAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS
To the Stockholders of UNION ELECTRIC COMPANY:
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Annual Meeting of Stockholders of Union Electric Company will be held at the registered office of the Company, 315 North Twelfth Boulevard, St. Louis, Missouri, on Monday, April 20, 1959, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon, for the purpose of (a) electing directors of the Company for the ensuing year; (b) acting upon the hereinafter designated proposals if brought before the meeting; and (c) transacting such other business as may properly come before the meeting or any adjournment thereof.

The proposals referred to in (b) above have been submitted by J. Raymond Dyer and his daughter, Nancy Corinne Dyer, of St. Louis, Missouri and consist, FIRST, of a proposal to amend the Articles of Incorporation to "restore to the common stockholders their preemptive subscription rights" and to increase the authorized number of shares of common stock to 15,000,000; SECOND, of six proposed By-Law changes (1) to provide that the approval of the board of directors be required before any money be spent for lobbying; (2) to outlaw false or deceptive advertising and communications to stockholders and to divest officers and directors of power to expend corporate funds for such purposes; (3) to accord to the father and/or mother or guardian of a minor stockholder (whichever is legally entitled thereto) all rights incident to stock ownership accorded by the Company to stockholders who have reached their majority; (4) to permit a minor stockholder to vote in person or by proxy and all stockholders to exercise all other stock rights by power of attorney; (5) to permit adoption of By-Law changes and resolutions by affirmative vote of a majority of the shares voting thereon, a quorum being present, instead of a majority of the outstanding shares, provided notice thereof, the giving of which by the management shall be mandatory, is given in the notice of meeting; and (6) to provide that marked proxies only be considered in [illegible] for or against a proposal and that unless the stockholder [illegible] the proxy checks the [illegible] "Against" box before each proposal listed on the proxy ballot, no vote cast by the proxy agent on that proposal may be counted; and THIRD, of four other proposed resolutions (other than proposed By-Law changes) (1) to set up a separate office to handle stockholder relations, distinct and apart from the secretary's office, under a competent stockholder relations officer to be appointed by the directors who shall prescribe his duties; (2) to outlaw false or deceptive advertising and communications to stockholders and to divest officers and directors of power to expend corporate funds for such purposes; (3) to censure the present directors and to declare them disqualified for re-election; and (4) to have the Board of Directors adopt and submit to a vote at the next annual or special meeting of shareholders, a resolution amending the Articles of Incorporation of the Company so as to provide that holders of shares of common stock be entitled to subscribe to shares of each new issue of common stock in proportion to their holdings and in preference to non-holders.

Stockholders of record at the close of business on Saturday, March 21, 1959, will be entitled to vote at the meeting.

By order of the President and the Board of Directors.
E. J. SHAPIRO, Secretary.

STOCKHOLDER'S MEETING 285

TO THE SHAREHOLDERS OF ST. LOUIS SOUTHWESTERN RAILWAY COMPANY
St. Louis, Missouri, April 6, 1959
Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the shareholders of St. Louis Southwestern Railway Company will be held at the general offices of the company in the Cotton Belt Building, Fourth and Pine streets, in the City of St. Louis, Missouri, on Wednesday, May 6, 1959, at nine o'clock a.m., central daylight saving time, for the election of directors of the company in conformity with the by-laws and for the transaction of such other business as may legally come before said meeting.

The Board of Directors has fixed Wednesday, April 15, 1959, as a record date for the determination of the shareholders entitled to notice of, and to vote at, the annual meeting. The stock transfer books will not be closed.
M. G. MITCHELL, Secretary

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING
Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the shareholders of The Pulitzer Publishing Company will be held at the office of the Company, 1111 Olive Street, in the City of St. Louis, Missouri, Monday, April 13, 1959, convening at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, for the purpose of electing a board of directors and the transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting.
JOSEPH PULITZER, JR. President.
DELL B. STAFFORD Secretary-Treasurer.
St. Louis, Missouri, April 3, 1959.

White Water in Green River

Williams College freshman John B. Reid of Yonkers, N. Y., is almost buried in white water as he runs the rapids of the Green river near Williamstown, Mass., in his home-made kayak. He navigated this stretch of the rapids without incident but shortly afterwards capsized in the bitter cold water fed by melting mountain snow. He emerged shivering but unhurt.

Questioning Rock Thrower

Kensetsu Nakayama, 19-year-old Japanese youth who threw two rocks at Crown Prince Akihito and his bride, Michiko Shoda, and then tried to attack the Prince in the royal procession carriage, being questioned shortly after the incident yesterday. Nakayama was seized before he could get a good grip on the carriage. Police said the youth who failed his college entrance examination twice this year, had been harboring a festering hate for the royal family. —Associated Press Radiophoto.

A Crying Shame

Crying from the bottom of their hearts are Mary Greenan (left) and Pat Mahoney, both 8 years old. Mary is cuddling four motherless kittens they brought home. However, the children found they could not keep them because pets are not allowed in the Boston housing project where they live.

Readying Book Fair

Women volunteers of The Nursery Foundation of St. Louis setting up shop for forthcoming tenth annual Book Fair as workmen string lights under big checkered tent at Westroads parking lot. The Book Fair, which will run from April 23 through April 26, benefits the Nursery Foundation, a United Fund agency which is the city's first interracial, non-sectarian day care center. More than 200,000 books, records and copies of sheet music will be offered for sale.

All Aboard Saved

Only a burned-out shell remains of a Pan American World Airways Stratocruiser after its landing gear collapsed while touching down at the Juneau (Alaska) Municipal Airport yesterday. The five passengers and five crew members aboard the four-engined plane on a flight from Seattle escaped without serious injuries.

ATTORNEY ATTACKS POLICE SEARCH BILL

A bill to give St. Louis police broader search and seizure powers would "lessen, if not destroy," individual rights guaranteed in the Bill of Rights, James J. Rankin, an attorney who frequently defends persons charged with crimes, said last night.

He was one of four panelists who discussed revisions of Missouri criminal laws on the "Community Forum" program on television station KETC.

"While searching for pistols and knives is commendable, the proposed new law would allow police to search innocent persons not carrying concealed weapons," Rankin, who is chairman of the Bar Association of St. Louis committee on criminal courts, law and procedure, said.

The bill, designed to help smash rising crime in St. Louis by giving police expanded powers to search suspected persons for concealed weapons, was passed by the Missouri Senate this week and sent to the House for consideration.

Pointing out that the measure provides for "reasonable" search and seizure, Rankin asserted it does not provide the courts an adequate legal yardstick to determine what is reasonable.

He expressed the opinion that many more convictions in cases involving search and seizure would be appealed if the legislation is enacted. The executive committee of the bar association has opposed the bill, Rankin said.

Circuit Attorney Thomas F. Eagleton, who favors the bill, said it is "urgently needed in the face of the menace created by the increasing number of persons carrying and using concealed weapons in St. Louis."

Asserting the measure would not infringe on constitutional rights, Eagleton said Kansas City has had a similar law for many years and "nobody has ever said Kansas City is an anti-civil liberties town."

Others on the panel were Norman H. Anderson, prosecuting attorney for St. Louis County, and Charles M. Shaw, also an attorney, specializing in criminal law.

SEC ORDER ON UTILITY'S PROXY MATERIAL IS OK'D

An order of the Securities and Exchange Commission to Union Electric Co. proxy material was affirmed yesterday by the United States Court of Appeals here.

J. Raymond Dyer, St. Louis attorney, and his daughter, Nancy, minority stockholders of Union Electric, had asked that the order be set aside. The SEC order directed Union Electric to omit from its proxy material all but one of a number of resolutions that Dyer wanted taken up at the utility's annual meeting last year.

A similar suit brought by Dyer after the annual meeting in 1957, is pending in the United States Supreme Court. A suit relating to the 1959 meeting, scheduled for April 20, is pending in the St. Louis Court of Appeals.

WIFE SPOTS MISSING MAN; HE FACES BIGAMY CHARGE

Thomas F. Simily was charged with bigamy in a warrant issued yesterday by Magistrate Joseph W. Murphy at Clayton. He was arrested at a bus terminal, 701 North Broadway, as he was about to leave St. Louis.

His wife, Mrs. Donna Simily, a barmaid living in the Darst Apartments, 1300 South Fourteenth streets, recently observed Smiley, whom she had not seen since last August, entering the home of a neighbor.

Officers reported an inquiry disclosed that the neighbor was a cousin of a woman with whom Simily had gone through a marriage ceremony last November. She lives in Glencoe, in western St. Louis county. Police said Simily was married to Donna last April. He told detectives he thought his first wife had obtained a divorce. Her suit is still pending in Clayton, however, Simily, an unemployed baker, is 40 years old.

Star in the full-length feature in sound that is a world famous comedy and will have you in our aisles laughing. This is the motion picture that perpetuated public criticism against Chaplin and ultimately led to his decision to live outside the United States. It was the first film of its kind, showing poverty and pathos mixed with uproarious comedy. It is a hilarious satire, showing the eccentricities of persons with money (according to Chaplin's point of view). This film unfortunately is not available for exhibition in Kansas or Illinois. See it at the Roxy, co-starring VIRGINIA CHERRILL.

Well-Balanced Diet

By Ramon Coffman

AS WE COME to the end of our series on vitamins, I wish again to recommend that everyone obtain a well-balanced diet.

Q. If you went to a distant, solitary island, and could have only a dozen foods, which would you select?

A. That really is a hard question. Probably my choices would be milk, bread, eggs, roast beef, chicken, beef liver, potatoes, peas, oranges, apples, breakfast food and milk chocolate.

If I were writing on a different day, my choice might be changed a bit. If I had only the foods mentioned, I should miss peaches, bananas, avocados, head lettuce, carrots and several other items.

Q. Why is beef liver included on the list?

A. I might prefer calf liver, but beef liver is equally excellent as a source of the B-complex vitamins. If a person eats liver twice a week, he gives himself a fine supply of those vitamins.

Q. What if a person does not enjoy eating liver?

A. He can obtain the necessary supply of B-complex vitamins from other foods.

Some (but not all) of the needed B-complex vitamins are found in lean meats, poultry, fish, peanuts, peanut butter, beans, peas, carrots, cabbage and asparagus.

Bread contains several B-complex vitamins. This is true of enriched white bread as well as of the "dark breads."

A dozen foods on my first list would give a good supply of the standard vitamins, but several odds and ends would be needed—salt, sugar, cooking oil, maybe honey. I should also like a little ice cream and cake!
